

BIDS REJECTED

Action Taken at a Meeting Monday Afternoon.

FIGURES ABOVE ESTIMATES.

BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE IS TO INVITE NEW BIDS.

Officials Say New water System Will Cost Half a Million or More—
New Bond Issue Is Talked of.

All bids for the construction of the new city waterworks plant have been rejected, and the auditor has been instructed to return the bonds accompanying the bids, to those who submitted them.

This action was taken at a meeting of the board of public service held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, Members
Lamb, Livingston and Linke concurring. The right to reject any or all bids was received by the board and it was this right which it exercised on the ground that the bids submitted
were above the engineer's estimate,
and were excessive.

The board will again examine carefully the plans and there may be some changes made in the specifications before the bids are readjusted.

The estimate made by Engineer L.
K. Davis is, of course, a secret, so that all bidders are treated alike.

There is one specification which is not generally understood, the payment of 5 per cent. of the total cost of the work to the United States Sand Filtration Company.

This company is the owner of valuable patents, and when the construction of the filtration plant is begun, inspectors will be sent here to see that the work is correctly done.

This 5 per cent. is paid to the U. S.
Filtration Company by the successful contractor.

"It will cost a half million of dollars to build the proposed water works plant," said Mayor A. J. Crilly Monday morning, "and this has been my estimate right along."

Others, including some of those who bid on the work Saturday, put the figures even higher, some saying that $650,000 will be required to construct the plant according to specifications.

The 5 per cent., therefore, to be paid to the U. S. Filtration Company would amount to $25,000 or $30,000.

Engineer L. K. Davis, Deputy City Auditor Ralph Davis and several assistants worked all day Sunday and until 4 o'clock Monday morning, in tabulating the bids, which were opened on Saturday, with a view to making an approximate estimate of the total cost of construction, taking for a basis of computation the bids
on the detailed work.

The Board of Public Service has at its disposal $200,000, which was realized on a sale of bonds.

The plans and specifications are very comprehensive, including a distribution in many parts of the city which at present are not built up.
The Board's idea is to construct the pumping station, put in the big mains
in the city proper, their size to be sufficient to furnish an adequate supply to outlying districts, where they are included in the distribution, and then pipe the city as thoroughly as can be done with the available $500-600. The bids received Saturday were for each and every detail of the work,
and the tabulation for the purpose
of ascertaining what it will cost, according to these bids, to construct the entire system, as outlined in the specifications.

Mr. J. P. Lamb, president of the Board of Public Service, said Monday morning: "We will go to the people and ask for an additional issue of $200,000 bonds, which if granted will bring the amount that we will have available up to the half million mark.
We can then construct the municipal plant, up to within a point, somewhere near the specifications."

Engineer L. K. Davis, who drew the plans, said: "With $500,000 the city
can build a plant that will be absolutely adequate for a period of 15 years. After the first year, the revenue derived will pay all operating expenses and pay the interest on the bonds, besides yielding a big net surplus which can be used in making the extensions contemplated in the complete specifications, which are designed to give Newark a water system that will be adequate for the next 50 years to come."

every street in the city and the plant will be one of the most complete and modern of any city in the United States."

According to law the plans and specifications for any proposed water works system, must be submitted to the State Board of Health. This was done by the Newark Board of Public Service and the State Health Board approved of them except in one particular, viz the covering of the filtration beds. Option was given to either increase the capacity from 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 or 9,000,000 gallons per day or to cover the beds.

Engineer Davis figured that it would be economy to adopt the latter course, which involved an additional expense of $10,000. To cover these beds precludes the possibility of their freezing in winter.

The Advocate's attention was called to the fact, by a gentleman
well versed in civil engineering, that the pipes for the new plant will frequently cross the pipes of the present
plant, and that in laying the same
the new pipes will have to be laid under the old pipes, which will require their depth in the ground to be greater for that reason.

PRESSURE ON ROOSEVELT

To Induce Him Not to Call an Extra Session of Congress.

FRIENDS BROUGHT IT TO BEAR

Belief Expressed That Nothing Could Be Accomplished by Calling the National Legislators Together Before the Regular Session—President Not Likely to Issue a Call.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The indications now are that no extra session of congress will be held this year.

This statement is made on authority of President Roosevelt himself. He has not decided the question definitely yet, and probably will not reach a determination of it until he shall have returned to Washington the latter part of September. The chances of an extraordinary session appear, however, to be fading. Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon the president to induce him not to call an extraordinary session of the congress.

Many senators and representatives have urged against an extra session.
They point out that practically nothing will be gained by an extra session that will begin not more than three weeks before the opening of the regular long session, and that it will cause some inconvenience to many members in both branches. Taking these things into consideration, the president has reserved a definite decision of the matter, the chances, as noted, being that the session will not be called. It had been the president's idea to issue at the proper time a call for an extraordinary session of congress to be held in October, for the purpose of enacting, if possible, railroad rate legislation. Incidentally, it was expected that some recommendations might be made by the president regarding proposed changes in the existing tariff law. The idea of an October session finally was abandoned,
and subsequently the president made arrangements for a two weeks' trip through the south, beginning Oct. 17.

It was then announced that the proposed extraordinary session would not be held until the November election. If finally the president should decide to call congress together, the session will begin on the first Monday
after the November elections, which will be just three weeks before the beginning of the regular session in December.

NORWEGIANS

Vote Almost Unanimously In Favor of Dissolution.

Christiania, Aug. 14.—The Norwegian people in a referendum taken pronounced in favor of the dissolution of the union with Sweden with remarkable unanimity. Of 465,000 voters 305,000 cast ballots. While the full result will not be known for some hours, returns show that about one person in 3,000 voted against the dissolution. The difference between the total number of voters and the number of votes cast is attributable to absentees, such as sailors abroad and others who are out of the country at present. At Christiania and other cities the total population turned out, every one wearing long streamers of the national colors and pictures of Premier Nielsen.

OUTBREAK

Against Foreigners Feared In China.
Authorities Alert.

Shanghai Aug. 14.—Soo Chow reports that the anti-American boycott is assuming a political character. An anti-foreign outbreak is feared. Only the northern Chinese authorities are sternly repressing the movement. The victory of Nanjing apparently is undecided what steps to take. Soo Chow has a population of 1,000,000 and is situated in the most populous district of China 125 miles southeast of the city of Nanjing.

PROTECTORATE

Over Korea is Discussed by Peace Envoys.

AN AGREEMENT IS EXPECTED

RUSSIAN PEOPLE ARE BECOMING VERY INDIFFERENT.

Czar Working Strenuously to Bring About Peace—Progress of the Day at the Portsmouth Conference.

(Bulletin.)

Portsmouth, Aug. 14.—M. Korost-viev has just phoned from the navy yards that Art. 1 has been agreed to
and that the conference has adjourned until 3 o'clock, when the second article will then be taken up for consideration and discussion.

This news means that the Russian and Japanese envoys have been able to so phrase the protocol regarding the recognition of Japanese predominant interests in Korea and the establishment of a Japanese protectorate over that country as to satisfy both governments. The question to be under consideration this afternoon is understood to be that relating to the acquisition by the Japanese on behalf of China of the Chinese Eastern railway.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 14.—After a day devoted largely to rest and recreation, the Russian and Japanese not in their quarters at the navy yard
at 9:30 o'clock this morning to resume their pacific labors.

It was a bright August morning with the crispness in the air of an autumn
day. The Russian envoys, Witte and Rosen, found overcoats quite comfortable during the rapid auto ride to the conference hall. Just before leaving the hotel Assistant Secretary Peirce called upon them to see that all their wishes were being complied with.

The Japanese were up shortly after daybreak this morning completing the preparation of documents and statistics bearing upon the Korean and Chinese Eastern railway questions. They had an early breakfast and were the first to start for the navy yard.

On arrival at the council chamber
the usual salutations were exchanged between the rival delegations. The envoys at once proceeded to business.
The discussion of Japan's proposed protectorate over Korea, which was begun Saturday, was resumed. The consideration of this subject was in a more advanced stage than when the conference adjourned Saturday because in the interim there have been exchanges of ideas concerning the phraseology of the protocol which is to be drawn. Both Russia and Japan had drafted their proposition and their discussion this morning at once opened on the comparison of these two papers with the idea of so framing the terminology as to meet the wishes of the two parties.

It is understood there will not be much difficulty in reaching a satisfactory conclusion on the Korean subject, as both Russia and Japan are a unit on the general proposition of Japanese commercial and political preponderance in that country. It is expected that before the noon recess the broader and more important question of the evacuation of Manchuria by the Russians and the cession of the Chinese Eastern railway will be taken up.

RUSSIANS BECOMING INDIFFERENT.

St. Petersburg Aug. 14.—The public is becoming indifferent as to the progress of the peace negotiations at Portsmouth. The people are centering all their attention on the subject of internal reforms. The tone of the press continues to be bellicose, but less enthusiasm is being attached to the newspaper utterances as they are considered to be largely in the nature of a bluff.

Your correspondent is informed upon the highest authority that the czar is working strenuously to bring about peace. It has been suggested here that the final negotiations may be that Russia will give way to Japan on the question of an indemnity on condition that the Japanese will return Sakhalin to Russia.

Devoured by Lions.

Blackpool, England, Aug. 14.—Two lions, the property of the city, were found loose in the yard adjoining their cage, together with portions of the body of a workman. It appears that the man on the previous night made the boast that he would enter the lions' cage. Evidently in an attempt to carry out his boast he opened the cage. The animals escaped and killed him, gorging themselves on his body.

BIG INCREASE IN NUMBER OF CASES

TOTAL CASES OF YELLOW FEVER
963, TOTAL DEATHS
ARE 154.

Fifty New Cases In Single Day—Only Five of the New Foci are Above Canal Street.

New Orleans, Aug. 14.—Yellow fever record: New cases, 50; deaths, 12; total cases to date, 963; total deaths to date, 154; new foci, 14; total foci to date, 202.

The big increase in cases which began four or five days ago is beginning to manifest itself in the death
list, which can be expected to grow steadily for the next few days. Among the cases is Louis Cuculli, Jr., cashier of the People's bank, who resides far out on North Johnson street. Another case is Maurice Kenny, ex-councilman and ex-member of the legislature. Two of Kenny's daughters have been stricken. Only five of the new foci are above Canal street. The great cause for the spread has been the concealment of cases and the change of residence of people who have been infected. Dozens of cases are on record which show conclusively that the people had moved away from a house
where infection had existed.

SHOT HERSELF

When Lover Called for His Engagement Ring.

TRAGEDY IN MT. LIBERTY

PARENTS OBJECTED TO WEDDING OF MISS MCBROOM.

As the Young Girl Handed the Ring
To David Colie She Shot Herself and Fell at His Feet.

Mt. Vernon, O., Aug. 14.—(Bulletin)
—Dora McBroom, the 16 years old daughter of Rev. G. V. McBroom of Mt.
Liberty, who shot herself after handing a ring back to her lover, is still living at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The bullet pierced her lung and her condition is serious. The girl's mother is prostrated and her condition is also reported to be critical.

Mt. Vernon, O., Aug. 14.—Dora Mc-
Broom, aged 16, daughter of Rev. Mr.
McBroom, shot herself through the right breast on Sunday because her parents objected to her marrying David Colie, a young farmer. The girl will probably die. Mr. Colie had been informed he must cease his affection for Miss McBroom and on Sunday he called at the house to get the ring he had given her. Miss McBroom went up stairs, got the ring and a revolver.
Returning down stairs, she handed the ring to her lover and placed the revolver against her breast and fired.
The girl fell at the feet of her lover.

MAN IS ENJOINED FROM MARRYING A YOUNG GIRL

Boone, Ia., Aug. 14.—Mrs. E. R.
Hollingshead has secured an injunction restraining Guy Stone from marrying her daughter, Miss Jessie Griffiths.

The order of the court also restrains Guy Stone or his brother Archie from being a cohabiting for a young lady or receiving her money.
The mother charged that Stone attempted to elope with her daughter,
but that she intervened.

She also claims that he wants to furnish money to support her and she becomes of age and can wed independently.

JAPS REPULSED

St. Petersburg Aug. 14.—General Linovitch, Russian commander-in-chief in Manchuria, telegraphed that on August 12 the Japanese made an attack upon the Russians along the Mandarin road at Jandylin Pass and in the valley of the Shimudza but were repulsed.

EXAMINATION

Of Plaintiff is Resumed by Mrs. Taggart's Lawyer

DRINKING BOUTS DWELT UPON

JUDGE SMYSER ENDEAVORS TO CON-FUSE AND ANGER CAPTAIN

Believed That the Officer Who Accuses
His Wife Will Be on Witness Stand Tuesday—The Day's Evidence.

Wooster, O., Aug. 14.—When the Taggart trial was recommenced this morning, Captain Taggart was on the stand. At once the grilling that started with the beginning of the cross-examination Saturday began again. Every artifice to confuse and anger the witness was employed by Mrs. Taggart's attorneys. It was with obvious effort even at the start that Captain Taggart controlled his temper under some of these questions. The drinking habits in the Taggart household at Fort Leavenworth was the subject of first questions.

"When you found your wife was using liquor to excess why did not you banish it all from your house?"
he was asked.

"It did not seem practicable," replied Taggart, "and I thought reproof would answer the same purpose. I thought, too, she would be able to use liquors in moderation."

Taggart said the sideboard at his house in Fort Leavenworth was known as "Chick's bar." "Chick" was the nickname of a young woman guest at the house. Taggart said he had never heard the sideboard referred to as "Tag's" bar.

"At any time you lived at Fort Thomas, did you reprove your wife
for drinking?"

"The only time was on the occasion of the drinking bout at the canteen," replied Taggart.

"But didn't you reprove your wife
then because you thought the talk
it might make annoy you?"

"Not altogether. I objected to the whole performance."

"When we lived at Fort Thomas," said Taggart, "I believed whatever my wife told me. Gradually after that I came to doubt her word. The first time I was convinced that what she said was not the truth was one night at Fort Leavenworth I met her coming from the cellar of our house with Lieutenant Fortesque."

"When at Fort Leavenworth did you first reprove your wife for drinking?"

"The night of the cotillon she gave."

"Wasn't everything decorous at that party?"

"Not altogether."

"You made the punch for the cotillon?"

"I did."

"How much?"

"About 30 or 40 gallons."

"Did Mrs. Taggart get drunk?"

"Not at the party. She did at our house afterwards. The first time Mrs.
Taggart got up after sitting all evening on the stairs she fell. The guests were gone. I helped her up and assisted her to her room."

"Where did they get their champagne that evening?"

"At my wife's request I went to the attic and got it from her trunk.
Everybody drank."

"You objected to your wife's drinking that night?"

"I did."

"You warned her to stop?"

"Certainly not. I would not reproach my wife in company."

"Captain Taggart said he was not intoxicated that night. He said he had danced nearly every dance. He said the reason he could not remember with whom he danced was not because he had spent the evening around the punch bowl, but because all boys had got alike to him."

"You say Mrs. Taggart was flushed when she came in from the cellar with Lieutenant Fortesque. Did you think that was from drink?"

"Oh, yes, I thought she looked excited. I saw they both looked that way. I saw them that night. I told Mr. Taggart that because of what had happened that night and what had happened before, I was convinced she was more intimate with Lieutenant Fortesque than she had led me to believe."

"Were you drunk one day in the Philippines when you threw yourself
on bed in Major Newberry's room?"

"I don't remember of such an occasion. I was never drunk in Philippines."

At noon today the cross-examination of Captain Taggart seemed not half through. It seemed probable that the grilling would continue over Tuesday. Taggart proved too hard to confuse and the cross-examination
today brought out little that was new.
At adjournment the questions had led up to the night of June 30 at Fort Leavenworth when Taggart is accused of assaulting his wife on her return after midnight. They accuse him of tearing the clothes from her body and bruising her face. This trouble it was that led to Taggart's confinement in the garrison hospital and his final separation from his wife.

CHICAGO STRIKE INDORSED.

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.—The convention of the Brotherhood of Teamsters
this morning indorsed the action of the officers of the executive board during the Chicago strike. The indorsement was unanimous.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Robert Noble, 76, committed suicide
at Mt. Gilboa, O., by shooting himself with a revolver. Melancholy was assigned as the cause.

YELLOW PERIL RUSSIA'S PLAY

Specter Rises In Discussion of Japan's Claim Regarding Korea.

M. WITTE MAKES MOST OF IT

Outlook For Peace Held to Be More Hopeful, but the Real Struggle Is Yet to Come—Indemnity and the Cession of Sakhalin Island the Main Problems.

Tokyo, Aug. 14.—It is reported that the Russians are retiring across the Tumen river and that they will avoid a battle in northern Korea. Confirmation of the rumor is not obtainable.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 14.—In-spite of open predictions made by personages connected with both sides
that by next Sunday the peace plenipotentiaries will reach an impasse
where a rupture will become inevitable, the outlook is pronounced most hopeful. The question of indemnity and cession of Sakhalin, however, remain as high and insurmountable as ever. The real struggle is only postponed. The main problems are no nearer solution than when the plenipotentiaries met. The principal reason for optimism is the fact that though confronted with the absolute refusal of the Russian reply to admit the discussion of either indemnity or the cession of the island of Sakhalin, the Japanese proposed to take up the consideration of the conditions seriatim.
From this it is assumed that the Japanese are prepared to yield or have reason to believe a way will be found to overcome the objections of their adversaries when the crucial test comes.

It is said very strong outside influences are at work on both sides, and that for the moment the effort is to gain time. The plan of having Russia practically satisfy Japan's claim of reimbursement for the cost of the war
by the purchase of the Japanese military evacuation of Sakhalin continues to be advanced. Such a solution would permit Russia to say she had paid neither indemnity nor ceded a foot of territory. The debate in Saturday's conference over the first condition—
"the recognition of Japan's 'preponder-ating influence' over Korea, involving her right to control the administration of the hermit kingdom, use the littoral
for strategic purposes, etc.—was of a remarkable character. Indeed, the position taken by M. Witte was sensational in the extreme. His attitude reveals plainly the Russian tactics.
They propose to raise before the world the specter of the 'yellow peril.' Russia claims that Japan's present purpose is to get a foothold on the Asiatic continent from which to extend her influence and dominion.
M. Witte made no objection, but he declared the words 'preponderating influence' did not adequately describe what Japan proposed to do, and he insisted that the language used should show Japan's true purpose, which he contended was to make a Japanese province of Korea.

Both the Russian and Japanese peace missions attended a services at Christ Episcopal church Sunday, the Russians in the morning and the Japanese in the evening.

OVERWHELMED

Was an Indian Village by Landslide.
Many Lives Lost.

Winnebago, Minn., Aug. 14.—A tremendous landslide came down about half a mile west of Spencer's bridge, near Ashcroft, B. C., sweeping the waters of the Thompson river over the entire Indian village, leaving nothing but wreckage in its path. The landslide caused a wave from 10 to 14
feet high up the river, carrying ferry and all small boats before it. Fifteen Indians were reported missing and 12 injured. Debris have been sent from Kamloops and V. C. B.

A DOZEN KILLED

Score Injured in Wreck on Nickel Plate

FAST TRAIN HIT A FREIGHT

MISUNDERSTANDING OF ORDERS CAUSE OF DISASTER

Smoker and Car Following Telescoped
—Terse Story of Accident Near Vermillion Ohio—The Victims.

Lorain, O., Aug. 14.—Coroner French stated this morning that the inquest will not be held until Tuesday or Wednesday.

The list of injured was today swelled to 24. Superintendent C. D.
Gorham and Traumatism R. W. Mich-
lener of the Nickel Plate were in town today. Mr. Gorham announced the railway investigation will be held in Cleveland tomorrow morning.

Cleveland, Aug. 14.—Twelve persons were killed and a score injured,
eight probably fatally, in a collision
on the Nickel Plate. A fast eastbound passenger train and a westbound
freight crashed together at Kishman, near Vermillion, O. The list of dead follows: Charles W. Poole, 60, engineer of passenger train, Conneaut,
O.; Joseph Alexander, 24, Newark, N.
J.; Frank Weaver, 35, Findlay, O.; Domenico Pomodoro, 30, laborer;
Antonio Grillo, 25, laborer; Joseph Pa-
raci, 38, laborer; Frank Buscini, 26,
laborer; Francisco Scilla, 38, laborer;
Natale Dimora, 32, laborer; Antonio
Achille, 24, laborer; Calogno Cagliana, 22, laborer.

The wreck, according to the officers of the road, was caused by misunderstanding of orders or disobedience of the crew.

Some of the injured are likely to die.
The list follows: John W. Long, 31,
Cleveland; Richard A. Long, son of J.
W. Long; Mrs. John W. Long; Louis
Reinholt, Bascom, O.; E. E. O'Hara, Findlay, O.; G. L. Kerr, Grafton, O.;
John W. Murphy, West Haven, Conn.; Philip Baskin, Tiffin, O.; Floyd Tru-
mer, Ada, O.; John Dexter, Tiffin, O.; Frank Phillips, Findlay, O.; John
Jafa; Leonardo Siracusa; Charles Bucufus; Veona Leonardo; Charles Dumont; Joseph Dumont; Tony Tre-valli; Charles Degar; Albert Janya;
Frank Gallia; Tony Veranca; Roy
Winch, Findlay, O.

Roy Winch of Findlay, who, although severely injured, was the first man to rush into the wrecked smoking car to take part in the work of rescue, gave the following account of the terrible sight within: "The living,
the wounded and the dead were piled
in one indiscriminate mass all over the floor of the car; the living entangled with the arms and legs of the dead and many of them pinned down
by the dead bodies of the Italians.
Some of the dead were so badly smashed that through their mouths
protruded hideous masses of intestines. Terrorized by the death of their companions, the hiss of escaping steam and the fear of death in the darkness, the Italians fought with one another and stamped over the living and dead in their efforts to get out of the car. Several of them were almost as badly injured by fighting each other as by the wreck."

Bowser Hangs Screen Doors

But Fails to Foil the Frisky Flies That Infest His Kitchen.

OVERLOOKS YARDSTICK

After Two Trips to Hardware Stores and an Hour's Sawing He Sees His Error.

[Copyright, 1905, by R. B. McClure.]
"I HAVE been trying to tell you for two or three days past," said Mrs. Bowser the other evening, "that the flies are coming into the kitchen in droves and that we ought to have a screen door to keep them out."

"That's easy enough," was the answer.

"Will you have a carpenter come to-morrow?"

"No, ma'am, I will not. The last time we had a carpenter around here it was to fix one of the window cords. He was about two months doing it, and his bill was something like $300. I don't propose to have another dawdling around."

HE BEGAN TO TACK ON THE WIRE.

"But you can't fit and hang a screen door. It's a very particular job, you know."

"When did you first learn that I couldn't fit and hang a screen door?"

"But you never have."

"My dear woman, I was banging screen doors when you were playing with rag dolls. I've probably fitted and hung a thousand of them in my time. I'll put up a door there tomorrow forenoon that will make the flies tired. We are not busy at the office, and I can stay home half a day as well as not."

"But you'll have trouble with it, and then—"

"And then what? I s'pose you want to say that I'll take the ax and brain you. Don't worry yourself. There will be no trouble about the door, and you won't be murdered, my dear woman, rest assured."

"If I paid the carpenter myself out of my pin money would you let him fit the door?" she asked after a moment.

"What in thunder has got into you?" he replied. "You must think I've got to be a regular fool that I can't do a little thing like fitting a screen door. We will have no carpenter. If you've got money to throw away I'll reduce your allowance. I never knew you to act quite so queer before."

"Mrs. Bowser realized that he was 'sot,' and she dropped the subject and hoped he would forget it in sleep. It was a vain hope. He had dreams of screen doors until he called out in his sleep, and the first thing when he awoke in the morning he said:

"We'll have some fun with those flies before noon today. I'm glad you called my attention to the door."

He put on his working suit and all through breakfast was talking about the doors he had made in bygone days. As a last desperate resort Mrs. Bowser suddenly asked:

"How would you like to go fishing today?"

"I've got that door to see to."

"Mrs. Taylor and her husband went yesterday and caught a string of fourteen."

"Um!"

"And she said at least ten more big ones got away. I'm just dying to catch a fish."

"But the flies?"

"They won't do any hurt for a day or two longer. The cook can shoo them out with a feather duster."

"And the fish can wait a day or two longer to be caught. One should not put off till tomorrow what can be done today. You have doubted my ability to fit and hang a screen door, and I'm going to prove that you are all wrong. Besides, it isn't fair to the cook. She has something else to do than shooing flies."

That settled it. Mrs. Bowser could not pack her trunk and go home to her mother, and neither could she go fishing alone. She simply had to stay on and hope that Providence would take a hand on her side. Mr. Bowser hunted around down cellar and found the frame of an old screen door. It had no earmarks by which he could identify it, but he assumed that it belonged to the kitchen doorway, and he started for a hardware store to buy wire to tack on. He was whistling blithely as he went, but the whistle stopped short when the dealer answered:

"Yes, we have plenty of wire screen. What width do you want?"

"Why, the usual width for a door."

"My dear sir, there is no usual width for a door. There are half a dozen widths. Besides, what about the length?"

"What business have they to make doors of five or six different widths?" demanded Mr. Bowser, with some heat.

"You must ask somebody else. All I know is that they do."

"Then they ought to be shot for it! I'm not going to tramp all over this town after a little wire. The door must be about thirty inches wide, and I s'pose I want about seven running feet."

The dealer knew that there were twenty chances to one against the customer, but he cut off the wire without a word, sold two papers of tacks to go with it and turned to another customer. Mr. Bowser made for home, and the first thing he did was what ought to have been done at first. He measured the width of the frame and found it was forty-two inches wide, instead of thirty. He stood there with his mouth pursed up when Mrs. Bowser came out. She at once detected the discrepancy and said:

"You didn't measure the frame before you went after the wire."

"Are you running this business or am I?" he demanded.

"But why didn't you measure?"

"You go right into the house and read your novel. This court knows what it is about."

He took the wire under his arm and started off. The store where he had bought was the nearest, but he lacked the moral courage to go back and admit his mistake. He had to walk six blocks farther to reach another, and when he got home he was mad enough to kick the old frame to pieces. He, however, got it up on two old chairs and began to tack on the wire. He had the job half completed when Mrs. Bowser came out to say:

"That doesn't look to me like the frame for this door. Are you sure about it?"

"It may be the door to a henhouse, a hoxpen or a stable!" he sarcastically replied.

"I'm going to measure and see."

"You are either going into the house and stay there or do this job yourself. I never saw such a woman to meddle."

Mrs. Bowser retired, and Mr. Bowser took a squint at the frame and the doorway. A very big doubt entered his mind, but was at once driven out. Not on his life would he admit that there was a mistake. He finished tacking on the wire and then set the frame in the doorway. The next moment he was spitting red-hot English under his breath. The frame was a foot too tall and at least six inches too wide. He had his foot raised for a kick when Mrs. Bowser appeared beside him and observed:

"I told you I thought it wouldn't fit. If you are going to do carpenter work you must measure things."

"Woman, what are you doing here?" he shouted at her.

"I—I wanted to see the door."

"Well, you got inside, or you'll see stars! You changed the frames on me while I was gone, but you can't come out here to exult over your villainy!"

"You know I never!"

But Mrs. Bowser jumped at her, and she fled. The door was ready to be fitted, but the only way to fit it was to saw off the surplus. It took an hour of hard work to do this. A hasty measure had been taken, with the result that straight lines were not followed, and when the door was set up there was almost an inch to spare all around it. In place of cutting down it must be enlarged.

"By thunder, but have I got to be a fool?" exclaimed Mr. Bowser to himself as he saw his blunder.

Like an echo came the voice of Mrs. Bowser, saying:

"I told you you ought to measure."

Mr. Bowser's face grew as pale as death, and he gasped for breath.

"It may not keep the flies out, but I don't believe a cow can squeeze in!"

Then a human figure swung its arms and jumped up and down, and a half stifled voice uttered whoops and shouts. Then human hands seized that old frame and tossed it on high and kicked it as it fell, and of a sudden there was a crash and sound of ripping, and as the dust settled Mr. Bowser was seen all tangled up with the rent and broken wire and in a comatose state.

"Poor man!" sighed Mrs. Bowser as the cat and the cook came running out. "He meant well, but he didn't know what it was to tackle a screen door!"

Addressing a Stranger, One Should Be Careful.

NOT long ago a New Yorker, while awaiting the train at a little New Jersey station, thought he would pass away the time by criticising the commuters who were crowded about the platform. Addressing the man nearest to him he whispered:

"Do you see that big hippopotamus of a woman standing over there by the post?"

The stranger glanced around in surprise, but responded:

"Yes, I see her."

"Well, what do you think of her wearing a polo hat? It looks like a cheese box with a blacking brush stuck up on it."

"I suppose she likes it, sir."

"Yes, but other people don't like it. They think it looks ridiculous. Then look at that white coat!"

"What of that?"

"Why, it doesn't fit. Never saw such a sight."

"Then her shoes. Those high heels are like stilts. It's a wonder she doesn't topple over and break her neck."

"Hah!"

"And that complexion! I'll bet she uses more paint than a chorus girl. I'll stake my watch that her hair has been treated with chemicals."

"You do, eh?"

"Yes. By the way, you don't happen to know her, do you?"

"Slightly."

"Indeed! Who is she?"

"Only my wife, that's all. And if you don't clear off this platform in two seconds I'll thrash you!"—New York Globe.

How a Great War Is Ended

Novel Phases of the Portsmouth Peace Conference: What Spain and France Paid In Defeat Japan Versus China.

IN many respects the meeting of the Russian and Japanese peace envoys in the city of Portsmouth is unique. In his official statement on landing in this country Count Sergius Witte, the head of the Russian peace commission, said:

"The treaty must first be accepted, weighed and judged admissibly by Russia before she can proceed to formal negotiations. Hitherto, as you are aware, it was customary in cases like this to settle all such preliminaries before the meeting of the plenipotentiaries, whose task it was to come to a final agreement on the matters under discussion. Now, the very fact that his majesty the czar consented to take a course involving departure from this ancient diplomatic usage and to appoint a mission to learn the nature of our brave enemy's terms is an eloquent token of the friendly feeling which he and his subjects continue to cherish toward the people of the United States."

This is the first time that a peace commission has met in the United States to settle a war between nations of the old world. The meeting is in a sense one of the fruits of the Hague peace conference, which was initiated by the present Russian emperor. The conference and the arbitration methods it put in force provided for ending wars through the good offices of friendly powers, and President Roosevelt in bringing about the negotiations now in progress proceeded on these lines. As M. Witte said, the meeting is a departure from previous customs and the ancient diplomatic usage. That America should be the place for holding such a meeting and putting into application some of the principles formulated at the Hague is considered especially appropriate. The war is one of the most important wars waged in modern times, and if the negotiations for its cessation prove successful the treaty of peace resulting therefrom will not only be of interest in itself, but from the precedent which it will set.

When the United States had beaten Spain to a standstill in 1898, had captured her entire army in Cuba and annihilated her navy in the battles of Manila Bay and Santiago, Spain was forced to sue for peace. Overtures

NEWS OF OHIO

Killed His Wife.

Berea, O., Aug. 14.—Adam Boyer, an engineer for the Cleveland Stone company, shot and killed his wife and shot at but missed his three eldest children on the street here. Although pursued by his eight-year-old son, Frank, and seized by a neighbor, whom he frightened away with his revolver, Boyer escaped in the stone quarry in which he is employed. All the male citizens of the town were called out by Mayor Marting to hunt him down. A posse was sent out of the village in all directions. As Boyer is familiar with the place, Mayor Marting believes that he is in hiding in some out of the way cranny. Others say that he has carried out his threat to end his life by jumping into one of the many nearby ponds.

Freights Collide.

Toledo, O., Aug. 14.—Two Wheeling and Wabash freights collided head-on near Fremont, and Brakemen George Wells of Norwalk and George Peck of Toledo were killed. Failure of the westbound train to get orders to stop at Clyde is claimed to be responsible. The locomotives were badly wrecked and six cars were destroyed. Crews of both engines escaped by jumping.

Earl Kiser's Injuries.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—Earl Kiser, the automobile racer who lost his left leg as the result of an accident to his machine at the Glenview racetrack here, is resting comfortably at the hospital. His physician announces himself well satisfied with the progress which Kiser is making, and stated that he would recover unless unforeseen complications set in.

Mrs. Peter Bussemer Dies.

Zanesville, Aug. 14.—Mrs. May Bussemer, wife of Peter Bussemer of the Newark road, died at the family residence at 10:30 o'clock Saturday. The deceased was 84 years of age.

Thresh by Electric Light.

Wapakoneta, Aug. 14.—On the farm of August Broerman Saturday. Geo. Heinfield, with a force of men, continued threshing until 10 at night, by the light of electric lamps, the current for which is produced by a dynamo on the engine.

Dragged by His Pony.

Lancaster, O., Aug. 14.—Russell Briner, aged 10 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Briner, was thrown from a pony Sunday. His foot caught in the stirrup and he was dragged three blocks before being rescued. The boy was fatally injured.

Cedar Point Excursion.

The annual outing of Cedar Camp, Modern Woodmen, will be held at Cedar Point, Saturday, August 19. On above date the B. & O. will sell excursion tickets Newark to Sandusky, fare for the round trip only $1.25. The special flyer will leave Newark at 6 a. m., will arrive at Sandusky at 9:20 a. m. Returning train will leave Sandusky at 7 p. m. The fast schedule has been arranged for, and no stops for passengers will be made between Newark and Sandusky. Tickets should be procured in advance from the committee or at B. & O. ticket office. You are cordially invited to accompany this excursion. Cedar Point has the finest bathing beach in the world. Numerous other amusements.

THUNDERSTORM

Causes Widespread Damage in New York and Vicinity.

New York, Aug. 14.—Widespread damage was caused by a thunderstorm of unusual violence, accompanied by a high wind and a deluge of rain, that burst over New York and vicinity. A hothouse at the foot of West 152nd street in which a large number of persons had taken shelter was struck by lightning, and Miss Jeanette Freer, 20, was instantly killed. A dozen other persons were rendered unconscious, but quickly recovered. A Webster avenue trolley car carrying nearly 100 passengers was struck by lightning. Although the car and its occupants were unscathed, a panic was precipitated among the passengers. Fourteen persons, almost all women, were injured, nine of them so seriously that they had to be removed to a hospital.

KILLED BY OFFICERS

New York Minister and Wife Attacked by Negro, Who Was Shot While Resisting Arrest.

Ballston, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The Rev. Bernard Schulte and his wife of New York were attacked at Mechanicsville and probably fatally injured by a negro, who later was shot and killed in Saratoga while resisting arrest. Mr. Schulte came to Mechanicsville recently to take charge of the Episcopal church during the absence of the rector in Europe importance, Labor day and other business.

Only Six Drunks.

Mayor Crilly quickly disposed of six cases in Police Court Monday morning. Two of the unfortunates were sent to the county jail and fined $5
and costs. Two drew the same fines
and were committed to the city prison,
while two other cases were dismissed.

Scioto Association.

The centennial meeting of the Scioto
Association will be held with the Licking Baptist church, two miles north of Hebron, Thursday and Friday, Aug.
17 and 18. Those coming by the trolley line will be met at Taylor's bridge
from 9 to 11 o'clock Thursday morning
sun time.—A. K. McCall, Pastor.

Camping Party Returns.

The camping party that has been occupying Mr. Ralph Wyeth's cottage at Buckeye Lake for the past two weeks returned to Newark Monday. In the party were Misses Alice and Julia McCune and Miss Josephine Veach, Messrs. Ralph Wyeth, Samuel Brown
and James Cooper of McComb, O.

Big Catch of Turtles.

Messrs. Edward Nutter, Edward Harris and U. G. Culp, who have been rusticating in Fairfield county for some days, made an extraordinary catch of turtles on Thursday, having bagged 87 of them. The combined weight of the turtles was 350 pounds. They will be shipped to Graff Bros., of this city, who will work them up into soup.

Stephen Gill Slightly Hurt.

Mr. Stephen Gill, the wellknown farmer, who was thrown on the paved street at Third and Main while he was attempting to get on a Buckeye Lake car Saturday at 4 o'clock and was supposed to have been badly injured, was only bruised and slightly cut on the head. It was by attempting to get on the car while it was in motion that caused Mr. Gill to fall.

First Congregational Church.

The evening service at the First Congregational church yesterday was of special interest. Mr. Trevor sang "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say." Miss Vida Shauk and Mr. Trevor sang as a duet "Abide With Me." The "Glory Song" was sung by the choir and congregation. The pastor preached a short sermon on "The First Disciples." There was a large congregation.

Dr. Burkett Improving.

Greatly to the surprise and delight
of his many friends, the announcement comes from Thornville that Dr. D. V.
Burkett, who was so severely injured
some weeks ago while boarding a street car, has thrown away his crutches and will return to active practice in a week or two, as well and strong as ever. Dr. C. M. Shepard, his physician, has received a letter from him to this effect, and the astonishing good news has caused great surprise among those who saw him during his confinement at Grant hospital.
—Columbus Dispatch.

Dr. Clark Hatch's Shingle Out.

Dr. Clark Hatch, who has just returned from Philadelphia, where he has been taking a post graduate course in the Philadelphia Polyclinic and Wills Eye hospital for the treatment of the eye, ear, nose and throat, has opened an office with his father, Dr. C.
A. Hatch, on Church street, and will give his prompt attention to the treatment of his specialty. Dr. Clark Hatch is a graduate of Denison university, Granville, and also of the Ohio Medical university of Columbus. For some time he assisted Dr. J. E. Brown of Columbus, the eminent eye, ear,
nose and throat specialist, and is thoroughly qualified in every way to practice his chosen profession, and his many friends in Columbus, Newark and Granville will wish him unlimited success.

Big Trolley Business.

The Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark and the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville interurban lines, as well as the various city lines, did a big business Sunday, and it is estimated that between six and seven thousand people were handled. Large crowds went to Buckeye Lake and Idlewild park, while the traffic between Newark and Columbus and Newark and Zanesville was also very heavy. The crowds were handled nicely and to the entire satisfaction of the public.

Burnes, (Jones and Huffman).

Free, Free, Tonight.

Professor Hammond king of all coins
with the one man band will give a big double show on the street night. A Newark young man eats pie, corner of Main and Fourth streets tonight. Do not miss it. The band starts at 7:30.

State University Scholarship.

The Licking County Agricultural Society has received a free scholarship to the Ohio State university, which will be presented to some Licking county boy this fall. The society will receive applications for the scholarship and will award it to the person
to whom they think it should go.

Buckeye Lake Excursion.

A big excursion will be run from McConnellsville, O., to Buckeye Lake on Tuesday, under the auspices of Buchanan's band of that city. The excursionists will come to Zanesville and from that point will be taken to the lake over the interurban. It is expected that about 200 will be in the party.

Horsehoers' Outing.

The Master Horsehoers' Association will hold their annual outing at Gant's park, Zanesville, Saturday, Aug.
19. Members of Columbus, Newark and Zanesville will be present and one of the finest outings they have ever had is expected. All shops will be closed on above date in order that members may attend.

Summerlad Beach.

An unofficial report comes from Millersport saying that Summerlad Beach has been sold to a Mr. Frye of that place and with it is the rumor that the purchase has been made for a traction company that is about to build a line to Buckeye Lake. The Advocate has a special dispatch from Lancaster Monday afternoon saying that the sale of the property has not as yet been reported there.

DeFrance Family Reunion.

A reunion of the DeFrance family
was held at the pleasant country home
of William DeFrance, near Outville, on Sunday and was one of the most enjoyable gatherings of the members of this family ever held. The principal feature of the occasion was the sumptuous dinner that was served, and of which all partook with zest. The day was quietly spent in a social manner and all who were present had a splendid time. Those present were:
Mr. and Mrs. William DeFrance, Mrs.
Sylvia D. Lacock and little sons, Walter and Clara of Cannonsburg, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. DeFrance and little daughter, Margaret; Mr. and Mrs.
Frank DeFrance and Mrs. M. A. De-France and children, Walter and Clara; Mr. and Mrs. William Ackley and daughter Marie, Mr. and Mrs. H.
E. Lytle and Miss Edna and Fred De-France.

"I'd like to steer clear of all wickedness," remarked Mr. Rounder, "but unfortunately I have a conscience."
"Yes?"
"That is not always dirigitible."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A hall of shame seems also to be assuming the semblance of a necessity in this country.

ELOISE W. WILDER

Who Was Buried Monday at Cedar Hill Cemetery Was a Resident of This City 40 Years Ago.

Eloise Walker Wilder, widow of the late Charles Peabody Wilder who died August 19 at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Wilbur F. Winchester at Indianapolis, Ind., after a long and painful illness, was buried in Cedar Hill cemetery here on Monday.

Mrs. Wilder had been a resident of Indianapolis for nearly forty years,
having moved there from Newark.
She was active in church charity and patriotic works. She and her husband were among the original members of St. Paul's Cathedral and were present at the first service ever held by that congregation. They were for years faithful teachers in their Sunday school. Mr. Wilder was treasurer of the church and Mrs. Wilder was secretary of the ladies' aid society.
She was also secretary of the ladies society for the relief of the poor, one of the earliest of our benevolent societies and was one of a committee of three ladies from that society who after the Chicago fire, went in person to carry food and clothing to the sufferers. She was an active worker for the soldiers in three wars, the Mexican, Civil and Spanish-American wars. During the Civil war she lived in Newark and was a prominent member of the Sanitary commission, &c.
Mrs. Wilder was a woman of unusual talents and accomplishments, being an artist as well as a poetess of no mean ability. At the age of 70 she still kept up her French and her historic researches and at the time of her death was engaged in writing a series of historical papers at the urgent solicitation of the magazines.
Mrs. Wilder was a lineal descendant of the recognized historic founders of our great country and by virtue of their distinguished services
she was an honored member of:
1. The Colonial Dames of America
2. Order of Descendants of Colonial Governors.
3. Daughters of Founders and Pa-triotists.
4. Daughters of the American Revolution.
5. United States Daughters of War of 1812, and
6. Was also a member of the Governor Thomas Dudley Family Association.

Mrs. Wilder is survived by four children, viz. Mrs. Alice W. Morton, and her son John R. Morton of Newport News, Virginia; Mrs. Wilbur F.
Winchester of Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr.
Charles Alonzo Wilder of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. R. L. Preston and her two little children, Ruth Adelaide Preston and Robert Wilbur Preston.
Mrs. Wilder's husband, Charles Peabody Wilder was for many years the proprietor of the old book store in Newark, O., known as "the sign of the big book." The same store is still being occupied and used as a book store on the West Side of the Square.
Mr. Wilder was also for many years organist at the Episcopal church in Newark.

THOMAS O'HARE'S FUNERAL.

The remains of Thomas O'Hare, who died at his home in Columbus on Thursday night, were brought to Newark on Sunday, arriving over the B.
& O. on the 12:25 o'clock train, and were taken to Cedar Hill cemetery.
Short services were held here by Rev.
Father Plunkett, assistant to Rev.
Father B. M. O'Boylan, pastor of the St. Francis de Sales church, after which the remains were consigned to mother earth. A large number of friends from Columbus and from the northern and southern part of the state were in attendance at the funeral.

JAMES TAYLOR.

James Taylor was born in December, 1829, at the old home place, at the crossroads, two miles this side of Hebron He was the oldest son of John and Elizabeth Taylor, pioneer pres-biter of Union Station. The father died when the two boys were in infancy, James being but three years old, and the mother survived until five years ago, when she, too, was called to the spirit land. Mr. James Taylor was married 51 years ago last March to Miss Lucinda Winters, who still survives. Their eight children were the fruit of this happy union, two of whom are dead, Mack and Lonie. Six are living, being John Taylor, Mrs.
Eliza Moore, George Taylor, Duane A.
Taylor, Oscar K. Taylor and Mrs.
Grace Ackerman. The deceased joined the Baptist church early in life and

OGLE—GAMBLE.

The many Newark friends of Mr.
Augustus J. Ogle, the popular and skilled pressman of the Coshocton Democrat and Standard office, will be interested in learning that he was married to Miss Jennie Gamble, a charming and accomplished young lady of that city on Wednesday of last week. The wedding was a complete surprise to the friends of the happy couple, no one being aware of it except the parents of the parties. Mr. and Mrs. Ogle have the congratulations of all their Newark friends.

MOLDERS RESUMED WORK AT BIG FOUNDRY ON MONDAY.

Mounters in South Shop Start Work
on Tuesday—No Disorder of Any Kind Is Reported.

All the molders at the Wehrle foundry resumed work Monday morning after six weeks' idleness. The mounters in the north shop and the employees of the safe department returned to work at the same time. On Tuesday morning the mounters in the south shop will go to work, and on Wednesday the steel range department will resume operations with a full force of men.

No disorder has been reported
about the big plant for several days.

GIVE YOUR STOMACH A GOOD, LONG REST!

Quit torturing it with stimulants, cathartics and irritants. Get a remedy that will digest the food and convert it into good, rich, red blood, thus building up the depleted system and giving the stomach opportunity to recuperate. There is only one remedy that will do all this and that is Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powders.

The only remedy that contains all the elements necessary to digestion—the only remedy compounded on strictly scientific principles—the only remedy that has thousands of cures to its credit—the only remedy that will give relief to the most chronic case with the first dose. We mean just what we say: You can be cured of dyspepsia
and Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powders will cure you.

A WONDERFUL RECORD!
We have cured thousands of dys-pepsias, but in order to bring the matter "home," we refer you to William Coons, Adam Trautman, Professor
Drumm, C. Burton, B. O. Engineer Furkison, all of Newark, as to the efficacy of Dr. Jackson's remedies. The above named were cured after doctor-

TALK ON AERIAL NAVIGATION

ROY KNABENSHUE RELATES HIS EXPERIENCE WITH HIS LATEST MACHINE.

Anxious to Meet Santos Dumont in a Series of Flights—Will Appear at State Fair.

Roy Knabenshue, the Toledo aeronaut, captain and inventor of the only American built airship to successfully navigate the air, although very enthusiastic over his recent successes, is quite modest in referring to them, and to a representative of this paper he said, in part:

"The subject of aerial navigation has been a study of scientists for two hundred years, and I believe we are now upon the threshold of success. My recent successful flights at St. Louis, San Francisco and Toledo convinced me that I am working in the right direction and the dream of ages is about to be realized. To successfully navigate the air, the inventor must study nature's laws and so construct his ship that he may be able to combat the elements and overcome the many obstacles presented. In the construction of my present machine I have put to practical test the lessons I learned by close observation and study of the machines of the leading inventors, with whom I was in close contact in St. Louis, and combining the most essential points of their machines with my own ideas, I have been able to construct an airship of which I am at all times complete master, ascending and descending at will. To prove this, before my recent flight at Toledo, I announced that I would alight on one of the leading buildings of the city and after a brief rest resume my journey. How successful I was, you all well know. I consider Santos Dumont the peer of all navigators, and expect to make a series of flights with him, and from these contests, no doubt, I will add much to my knowledge of aerial navigation."

The managers of the Ohio State fair have engaged this daring young navigator to give daily exhibitions during the fair, to be held at Columbus, Sept. 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, that Ohio people may have opportunity of witnessing his thrilling flights and studying this latest scientific invention. Columbus is so easy of access by numerous steam and electric railways, all of which will have cheap excursion rates during the entire week of the fair, that record breaking crowds are assured for this daring and thrilling exhibition.

Three specters that threaten baby's life. Cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry never fails to conquer them.

NEW MAP OF OHIO

Geological Survey Men Near Newark, Engaged in Securing Data for the New Publication.

Columbus, O., Aug. 14.—Five men in the service of the United States geological survey passed through Columbus Sunday night on their way to a point near Newark, where they will be engaged for some time securing data for the topographical map of Ohio, on which the government has been engaged for several years.

The map, when completed, will show the elevation above the sea level of a large number of points, and by means of lines joining points of the same altitude, will present a view of the surface irregularities of the state. For the purposes of the survey the state has been divided into sections, and each section is worked up separately and plated on a separate sheet. These sheets are issued as fast as finished, and when all are complete they will be combined to form a topographical map of the state.

The results, besides being of interest to scientists, will be valuable to the weather bureau, to mining engineers, to drillers or oil and gas and to the projectors of railroads in determining the location of their lines. The members of the party are J. P. Ellis, J. A. Lilly, F. L. Whaley, O. Tannehill and R. C. McDowell.

A little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Anyone who makes it a rule to keep Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand knows this to be a fact. For sale by all druggists.

"Bosh" is a Turkish word meaning "nothing."

EARL KISER IS BADLY INJURED

DARING AUTO RACER IS WELL KNOWN AMONG ALL THE NEWARK SPORTSMEN.

Left Leg Amputated After Accident at Cleveland—Says He Will Not Quit the Game.

Earl Kiser, the fearless auto-racer who was so badly injured in Cleveland Saturday afternoon, is well known in Newark, he having been here on many occasions. Several years ago he was a star bicycle racer and entered in many events. He has raced in Newark. The press dispatches give the following account of the accident:

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—With 5,000 people watching him try out the Winston Bullet, at the rate of a mile a minute, Earl Kiser, the dare-devil auto-racer, Saturday afternoon ran into the fence at the Glenview Driving park and sustained serious injuries which will keep him out of the racing game for the rest of his life.

Kiser was so badly injured that his left leg had to be amputated at the knee, and his right shoulder was dislocated and he was severely bruised about the head, face and body.

"My God, my leg," he cried repeatedly until a doctor arrived. When chewing his gum as if nothing had happened, he conversed about his injury. He lapsed into unconsciousness when the ambulance arrived, and bleeding from his leg, he was taken to St. Clair hospital, where his leg was amputated. It is announced that he will probably recover.

The accident occurred at the three-quarter pole. Kiser was trying to "pocket" a Peerless car following him when suddenly his own machine skidded and he lost control. It crashed into the fence, seeming to dart through the air. The machine caught fire, but this was soon extinguished and the daring driver was extricated.

Kiser says that he will re-enter the racing game as soon as he is out of the hospital. He hopes to participate in the eastern races late this season. His condition is now satisfactory to the surgeons.

THE 10c. CIGAR HABIT.

How to Break Off This Expensive and Needless Habit.

No good business man would pay twice as much for his stock of goods as he ought. Why shouldn't he apply the same principle to his cigars?

The 10c. cigar habit is expensive; it is also needless. J. W. Collins & Son have put in a cigar, Wadsworth Bros. "Chico," that is as good as any 10c cigar ever made, yet it retails for 5c. straight.

Just see how easy it is to break off that 10c. cigar habit by smoking "Chico." Stop at Collins & Son's and try a "Chico." See how evenly it smokes, what a 25c. aroma it has, how the ash stays on solid and white, without flicking or dropping. J. W. Collins & Son have the sole agency for Wadsworth Bros. "Chico" for Newark, and as this is naturally a 10c. town, and people are accustomed to a 10c. flavor, it follows that they will have a big trade on these cigars that give a real Havana fragrance and flavor at the 5c. price.

Muskellunge Fishing.

An article in Sunday's Cincinnati Enquirer on Muskellunge fishing contains a paragraph in reference to a former Licking county boy, Mr. James G. Cooper, who was born and brought up in St. Louisville and who is now a member of the firm of Cooper Bros. of Cincinnati. Mr. Cooper married a daughter of Mr. William Bowers of this city.

The muskellunge is counted the gamest fish that swims and his capture calls for special skill.

The Enquirer says: The record fish for Wisconsin waters in 1904 was caught by Mr. James G. Cooper, a prominent business man of Cincinnati. In Chain lake, near Eagle river. It was 50 inches long, 24 1/4 inches around the body and weighed 46 pounds when taken from the water. Mr. Cooper also holds the record for a one day's catch by taking four fish from Aldrich lake, near Eagle river, which weighed 20, 21 1/2, 25 and 26 pounds, respectively. On this day he had seven strikes and lost three of the seven.

FIFTY FOWL

Killed and Ten Dogs Bitten By the Mad Beast Which Fought With Men and Died.

Wapakoneta, O., Aug. 14.—Another mad dog went on a tear at St. Mary's Saturday night, and for 30 minutes had things his own way. The maddened cur first killed twenty-two ducks belonging to Sebastian Coon, thirty chickens owned by Albert Silvers, and but or chewed seven other dogs attracted to the scene. Although a mail carrier tried to kill it with an ax, an other citizen pounded it with a ball bat and a dozen bowlders thrown by boys struck his body, the beast swam across the river and fought and bit three more dogs before it was finally shot and killed.

STATISTICS

Compiled by Department of Commerce and Labor Show Increase in Exports From United States.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Statistics compiled by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor show that the exports of manufactures in the official year just ended amounted to $743,629,297, as against $452,415,921 in the preceding year. $433,851,756 in 1900 and $183,595,742 in 1893. Of manufactures the exports for the past fiscal year were "not only the largest on record, but are in excess of the combined exports of all articles in the continental year 1876, and near $100,000,000 more than the total imports and exports of the country at the close of the civil war." The growth in the exportation of manufactures is shown to have largely exceeded the growth in population. Out of 30 leading articles only seven show a falling off for the year as compared with 1904. Iron and steel manufactures supply about one-fourth of the total exports, having been $134,727,921, as against $111,948,586 in the preceding year.

ECLIPSE OF MOON HERE TONIGHT

MOON WILL ENTER SHADOW AT 9:39 AND EMERGE AT 11:42 O'CLOCK.

Sun Will be Partly Hidden Aug. 29—Eclipse of Moon is Visible in This Section of Country.

Throughout central Ohio, in fact to all inhabitants of North and South America and Africa, an eclipse of the moon will be visible tonight, weather permitting. This eclipse of the lunar queen will begin at 8:08 o'clock tonight, Aug. 14. The moon will enter the shadow at 9:39 o'clock and the middle of the eclipse will be at 10:41 o'clock. It will emerge from the shadow at 11:42 o'clock and leave the penumbra at 1:14 a. m.

In this eclipse this evening observers will be able to see three-tenths of the lunar surface enter the earth's shadow. A total eclipse of the sun is due to fall the last of the present month, Aug. 29-30. But this will be a total eclipse only in a narrow path, one that will belt the earth from Canada to Arabia.

The sun's eclipse is of vast importance to science and astronomers in general. Numerous expeditions will be sent to various points of the world to observe the phenomenon and the big observatories of Europe and America are making extensive preparations for the event, having already established stations of vantage from which to obtain the best possible views and photographs.

The path of the eclipse will start in northwestern Canada at sunrise on the morning of the 29th. There it will be total, and will be seen along a belt that will cross the Dominion at the southern extremity of Hudson bay, passing through Labrador and across the Atlantic ocean to Spain, where it is expected the best results will be obtained, as the eclipse falls there at noon. From Spain the path of totality runs across the Mediterranean sea, through Egypt into Arabia, where the eclipse will end at sunset of the 30th.

Because of the exceptional advantages presented by Spain, including its accessibility and clear weather conditions at that season, it will be the Mecca for astronomical observing parties. Several American observatories have sent, and will send, observers to that country, while the astronomers of Europe will flock there.

Clear Sky Necessary. The requirement for a good view of the eclipse and the excellence of the photograph, is a clear sky, and this the observers expect to obtain in Spain. Egypt presents a more attractive field in this particular, but there the sun will be declining at the hour of eclipse, and being near sunset will not present a favorable angle for the best photographic results.

The Lick observatory of California has sent a party to Labrador to make observations there, and similar parties will be scattered all along the path of totality.

Those who desire to see the phenomenon will have to rise early, as the eclipse will begin shortly after sunrise here.

OWNER

Of the Colt Sysonby Turned Down a Hundred-Thousand-Dollar Offer for Him.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 14.—James R. Keene laughed last evening when asked what value he set on Sysonby. After thinking for a moment he said: "That is a question I cannot answer, because Sysonby's value to me cannot be expressed in dollars and cents. The horse is not for sale at any price, and Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

under the circumstances I don't see how it is possible for me to place a money valuation upon him."

That Mr. Keene has no idea of parting with Sysonby, no matter how much he is offered, was clearly shown before the running of the Great Republic yesterday. Some time before the race was run John W. Gates approached Mr. Keene and offered him $100,000 for Sysonby. Mr. Keene's refusal of the offer was so firm and positive that Mr. Gates did not attempt to discuss the matter further, although it is said he was prepared to offer a considerably larger sum if Mr. Keene showed the slightest disposition to sell.

Several friends have started a boom for Mr. Keene as racing commissioner. Mr. Keene was much surprised tonight when he heard of it. He refused to discuss the matter at all, merely saying that it was all news to him, and that he must decline to say anything whatever on the subject.

THREE BABES,

Each Three Years Old, Fell From Windows in Chicago and Were Killed.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Three children, each 3 years old, were killed in Chicago Sunday by falling from windows at their homes.

Charles Witkities, 4000 South Paulina street, was playing in a room at his home when a companion called to him from the street. The child climbed to a third-story window, leaned too far out and fell 30 feet.

While playing in her home, Maria Ganshorn, 3 years old, 132 Center street, stumbled against a screen and fell from the third floor, 50 feet to the ground. She had been playing with a ball which rolled near the window, and in attempting to pick it up she leaned against the screen, which gave way.

Climbing to the sill of an open window on the third floor of his home in the absence of his mother, Clemens Kapka, 659 Dixon street, lost his balance and fell to the ground.

MARY AND BESS

Met Boh and Dick, Then Took Trip to Buckeye Lake—An Involuntary Bath Spoiled Costumes.

Mary and Bess, two East Side maidens of Columbus, will have more faith, hereafter, in the Sunday school stories that tell of swift retribution following disobedience to parental authority says one of the Columbus papers.

Fresh, spick and span, in white hats, shoes and dresses they left their home Thursday to visit a friend residing east of Columbus, with whom they were to spend the day.

Unfortunately for their good intentions they chanced to meet Boh and Dick, their faithful admirers when East High school is in session, and the boys, bent on a day of fun at Buckeye Lake, prevailed on the girls to accompany them, assuring them of a return in ample time to prevent parental suspicion as to the deception.

All might have gone well had not a boat ride suggested itself to one of the girls and the boys being acquiescent, although not boat wise, the four were soon floating on the waves of the great inland sea. Even then they might have escaped disaster had not that peculiar insanity, known as boat rocking, which lies in wait for all not used to the water and boats, attacked them.

It did, however, and soon two white clad maidens and two youths were struggling in three feet of water, to be rescued in a trice by the watchful boatmen. There was no adequate explanation for the condition of those white costumes and as a result Boh and Dick will be taboos by two girls when school opens.

CHINK'S BLOODY WORK

Two Chinese Merchants Dead and Another Dying—Murderer Killed Himself at Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 14.—Two Chinese merchants are dead and the son of one of them is dying in a hospital as the result of a tragedy in this city. Fung Ging and Fung Sing were partners in a tailoring business in Vancouver's Chinatown. Fung Sing started out on a tour of murder. First he shot and fatally wounded Fung Lee, son of Ging, and then turned his attention to the latter. Having finished the family Sing turned the revolver on himself and sent a bullet through his neck, causing instant death. The two had quarreled because Sing wished to retire from business.

TEDDY PURCELL GETS RELEASE

LITTLE PITCHER DEMANDS PAPER AT CLOSE OF SUNDAY'S GAME WITH AKRON.

Newark Lost Out By Score of 3 to 2—Game was Fast, But Newark Played Against Hard Luck.

In marked contrast with Saturday's contest, Newark started off again, the fast bunch from the Rubber City at Idlewild park Sunday afternoon, the score being 3 to 2.

Teddy Purcell, who pitched a good game with the possible exception of being wild, demanded his release immediately after coming from the pitcher's box at the close of the ninth inning. President Hayes was willing and after supper Teddy turned in his gray uniform and is no longer a member of the Newark team.

It was a hard game to lose. Newark hit Mr. Limerick at a lively clip, but a little slow base running, coupled with some fast Akron fielding tells the tale. Newark scored in the first inning, when Snyder got a clean single and went to second on Snow's grounder to East. Doyle hit one square on the nose and took first, while Snyder went across the pan at a two-forthy gait. The second tally came in the sixth, when Snow walked and took second on Doyle's single and went home on Schweitzer's double. McDonald got clear to third in the seventh, but the bingles were not forthcoming at the right time.

Not until the sixth did the Akron bunch chalk up a tally. Teddy passed East and he was sacrificed to second by Bill Swartz. Dithridge hit safely, as did Bedur. Dith had stolen second and followed East to third when the latter scored.

The winning run came in the seventh, when Dithridge got another safe one in Snyder's meadow and took second on Snyder's bad throw to first. He took third on Bedur's grounder to McDonald and scored on Ortleib's hit.

Teddy Purcell was justly indignant at some of the decisions in Sunday's game. He told Taylor in no gentle terms what was weighing heavily on his mind. The ex-Idlewild player is fast making a name for himself as an umpire and many of the fans talk unkindly to President Hayes about him. While Teddy was wild Sunday afternoon, the fans were with him until the last dog was hung. When Captain Hayes talked business with the little pitcher he was handed some hot roasts by a bunch of "the beachers," but as hot air is cheap and harmless, no attention was paid to the remarks.

Purcell has a number of positions in view and says he will have no trouble in getting a job. One offer from Johnstown, Pa., is especially attractive.

The score of Sunday's game follows: Newark, ab. r. h. po. a. e. Davis, ss. 4 0 1 2 3 0 Snyder, r. 4 1 1 2 1 1 Snodgrass, lb. 3 1 1 10 0 1 Doyle, c. 4 0 3 5 1 0 Schweitzer, m. 4 0 1 2 0 0 Bissell, l. 4 0 1 0 0 0 McDonald, 2. 4 0 1 1 2 0 Wratten, 3. 3 0 1 4 1 0 Purcell, p. 4 0 0 1 3 0

BASEBALL NOTES.

A bulldog created considerable amusement while the visitors were taking their preliminary practice Sunday. He got in the diamond and chased grounders until he was nearly exhausted. The sportive canine would even jump after fly balls which were hit to the outfield.

Al Schweitzer made a great catch off Limerick's bat in the third inning. The Akron pitcher landed fairly on one of Purcell's fast ones and the ball shot on a line between left and centerfield, over Davis' head. "Schweitzer" came in like a flash and picked the ball off his shoe tops. The catch was heartily applauded.

NEWARK WON

From Columbus A. I. U. at Buckeye Lake Sunday, Taking the Second Game in Series of Three.

Baseball teams representing the Newark A. I. U. and the Columbus A. I. U. crossed bats at Buckeye Lake Sunday and, of course, Newark won. Their score was 9 to 2. This was the "rubber" game between the two teams, both having won a game. The batteries Sunday were: McCarthy and Heib and Bausmauer, Williams and Lally.

McCarthy was invincible from the start, striking out 12 men. Only four Newark men were victims of the Columbus pitchers.

Arrangements are being made for another three game series to be played by these teams.

M. & M. GET TWO GAMES.

The M. & M. team won a game Sunday morning by defeating the Frog Hollow bunch 10 to 2. They claim the afternoon game by a 9 to 0 score on a forfeit. Manager Frenchel states that the Frog Hollow team agreed to play Sunday afternoon, but wouldn't live up to their agreement because they "didn't feel like it." He therefore claims that they forfeited the game. This makes two out of three won by the M. & M. team.

CONSUMERS 13, P. & M. 9.

Consumers defeated the P. & M. in a fast and exciting 10-inning game on the Everett grounds Sunday morning. The feature of the game was the batting of Edward Strong, getting four home runs and a two-bagger out of six times up. This makes nine straight for the Consumers.

Batteries—P. & M., V. Harris and Jones; Consumers, C. Webb and Church. Hits—Consumers 15; P. & M. 6.

UTICA COMING

Strong Team Will Be Here Next Saturday to Play Y. M. C. A. Boys at Newark Athletic Field.

The Utica base ball team which has been making a good showing this year will meet the Y. M. C. A. team at the Y. M. C. A. Athletic Field on Friday, August 18. This promises to be a good game. The Utica boys who have defeated several Newark teams have lost three straight games to the association team which has not been defeated this year. The Utica boys have strengthened several weak points in their team and are determined to retrieve their losses. Admission 15 cents. The game will be called at 3:15 p. m.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, stings, sprains, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

It depends on a man's thirst whether it is an hour glass or a minute glass.

PURCELL HAS NOT BEEN RELEASED

But His Services Have Been Dispensed With By Mutual Agreement. Pres. Morton Sees Game.

That Teddy Purcell incident at Idlewild park Sunday afternoon was the chief topic of conversation about town last night and the fans are still chewing it over today. The fans who attended the game seem to condemn President Hayes for his part in the episode.

It is to be regretted that the management and any player should have any trouble on the grounds in the presence of the crowd. Those who saw the excitement from a distance blamed President Hayes for it, but it was because they knew nothing of the trouble.

The many fans who have been following Purcell's work for the past six weeks or two months, say that his indifference has been disgusting. It is the opinion of many that he has been playing for his release.

President Charles Morton of the Protective Association was in the city and watched the game. After hearing the statement of both parties President Morton said that he would look into the matter. It is doubtful if Purcell will be permitted to play with any team which is protected by the national agreement. The local management paid Purcell what was due him and he quit without getting his release. His services are not wanted by the local management, but his release will be retained for a time at least.

RUTLEDGE 10, EMERSON 8.

The Rutledge team took a game from the Emerson Stars Sunday afternoon by the score of 10 to 8. The playing of both teams was good, but the Rutledge team bunched their hits with Emerson errors. The score: Rutledge 10, Emerson 8.

Hits—Rutledge 7, Emerson 8. Errors—Rutledge 2, Emerson 3. Batteries—O'Connor and Powers and Varner, Strand and Langton.

TWO GAMES FORFEITED.

Manager Fox of the King Company team claims two games forfeited to them Sunday. The P. & M. team and the A. I. U. both failed to show up on the grounds as per schedule.

WRESTLING MATCH

Arranged For Friday Night Between Luttbeg and Unknown—Tonne man and Newhardt to Meet.

Max Luttbeg has signed the articles for the wrestling bout to be pulled out at the Music Hall Friday night. He is still in the dark as to who his opponent will be.

In all probability Ted Tonneman and Jack Newhardt will sign articles for a match which will be pulled off at the same time.

Tonneman is just as anxious to meet Newhardt as the latter is to meet Ted and there will surely be a pretty match. Each will be catch as catch can match, with the struggle hold barred. Pinned falls only will count and the bouts will be fought to a finish.

It was necessary to send two contracts to Kenton, as it was not known whether the men there would agree to divide the receipts for the night, a part to go to the winner of the Tonneman-Newhardt match. Therefore, until a reply is received the latter match cannot be advertised.

AMUSEMENTS

The bill at Idlewild Park Casino this week is a good one. It's vaudeville (call it vod vil) and each act is a high class feature.

The accompanying cut represents one of the best acts, that of Dixon, Burt and Leon. Their work is done

DIXON, BURT AND LEON.

in pantomime and is greeted with shouts of laughter and applause.

Stoddard and Wilson do a musical act in which they use a variety of instruments, twelve different instruments in all.

Nattie Vickers, as the sprightly little German comedienne, makes good with her jokes and songs.

Gordon Eldred in his impersonation does an act that is way above the average act of its kind. He scored a big hit last evening with his impersonations of the different characters in a Sunday school entertainment in a small Indiana village.

Edwards and Glenwood complete the bill with a slack wire and revolving ladder act. This is the last week of vaudeville at the Casino this season, so all lovers of vaudeville should avail themselves of the opportunity while they may.

ASK FOR PROTECTION

Four Men Accused of Assault Want Kentucky Governor to Furnish Guard at Their Trial.

Bowling Green, Ky., Aug. 14.—Attorneys for the four men who were brought here several months ago for safe keeping, charged with assaulting Mary Gladder near Russellville, Ky., have again appealed to the governor for military protection during their trial Aug. 23. They forwarded to the governor a petition in which they state that they believe the defendants will be mobbed before they can have a fair and impartial trial, unless they are afforded military protection. In addition to the petition sent to the governor a similar one has been forwarded to Judge W. P. Sandridge of the Logan circuit court, who is now at Atlantic City, and before whom the accused are to be tried. Threats have been made to lynch the four men as soon as they appear in court. John Sacra, one of the four men accused of the crime, was tried July 4 in Russellville and was sentenced to death. On that night a mob forced an entrance to the jail and attempted to lynch Sacra and the others. The mob was frustrated by the leader falling from the stairway leading to the cells of the accused and by the firing of pistols by officers who were to bring the accused men back to Bowling Green.

Duellists Mortally Wounded.

Bluefield, W. Va., Aug. 14.—Henry C. Hall and his son-in-law, Charles Brewer, got into a fight at the Brewer home and both will die of their injuries. Brewer lived in the same house with Hall, and became involved in a quarrel with his wife. He left the house, but soon returned armed with two pistols and demanded from his wife the baby. Then Hall took a hand in the quarrel and a pistol duel followed. Several shots were exchanged and both men fell fatally wounded. Brewer was shot twice in the abdomen. The ball pierced the intestines in several places. Hall was shot in the side. His wound was inflicted by a shotgun, supposed to have been fired through the window.

Princely Donation.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 14.—A donation of $100,000 for the completion of the Catholic cathedral at Covington, Ky., was announced by Archbishop Myers of that city. The cathedral has been in course of construction since 1894, a total of $300,000 having been already expended on it. Nicholas Walsh of Cincinnati is said to have made the donation, but the name of the donor was not announced officially.

Fate of Mutineers.

Sebastopol, Aug. 14.—As a result of the trial of the 53 mutineers of the training ship Pruthi, 15 have been acquitted, four condemned to be shot, three sentenced to penal servitude for life and the remainder to various shorter terms. The court recommended that two of the death sentences be commuted to penal servitude for life and the two others to 10 years' imprisonment.

Threaten to Strike.

Berlin, Aug. 14.—The workers in the city gas works of Berlin have made a demand for an 8-hour day and threaten to strike if their demand is not granted. Their organization is very strong and possesses a very large strike fund. The decision of the managers of the gas works is looked forward to with considerable anxiety.

Ex-Senator Jamison.

Cadiz, O., Aug. 14.—James B. Jamison, 75, is dead at his home here. He served two terms in the state senate from this district, and was the last Democrat elected senator in this district. He succeeded his brother, John C. Jamison, a Republican, who represented the same district during the civil war.

Thirty Workmen Overcome.

Brigue, Switzerland, Aug. 14.—The Simpson tunnel was the scene of fatal accidents. Thirty workmen were suffocated by fumes in the tunnel and were with difficulty restored to consciousness. Two men were crushed by falling rock.

Fireman Loses His Life.

New York, Aug. 14.—Fireman William Dayton was instantly killed and several other members of the crew of hook and ladder company No. 3 narrowly escaped death when the truck was thrown against an elevated railroad pillar on Third avenue by a streetcar. Dayton was caught between the pillar and the apparatus. The other fireman jumped. When other fire companies arrived at the box which had been pulled they found a false alarm had been sent in, and Frank Hand was arrested.

Twins Burned to Death.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 14.—A lamp exploded at the home of Will Elliot and the family did not awake until the house was in flames. Three children, two being twins, were burned to death, and the parents badly burned. The family is colored.

Factory Fire.

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—The Hercules gas engine works were destroyed by fire. Loss between $150,000 and $200,000, a greater part of which is covered by insurance.

Did Too Much Rubbing.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—James E. Daley, a bartender, shot and killed his wife in a saloon because she upbraided him for his attentions to other women. His 18-months-old daughter was the only witness to the killing, and it was several hours after the tragedy occurred before the police discovered the woman's body. Daley was arrested in a saloon near where he lived, and the police hurried him away to the station to prevent a crowd of infuriated neighbors from lynching him. When asked why he killed his wife, Daley replied: "Because she did too much rubbing."

Ball Entered Girl's Head.

Taylorsville, Ky., Aug. 14.—Miss Bessie Auberry, 17, who resided near Batland, met death in a singular manner. A pistol had been hidden under the bedding in her room by one of the young girl's brothers. Several small children were playing in the room and one of them found the pistol. The weapon was accidentally discharged and the ball entered the girl's head, causing instant death.

EXPRESS

Plunges Into the Rear of a Freight. The Casualties.

Kinsley, Kan., Aug. 14.—The second section of westbound Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe passenger train No. 9 crashed into the rear end of a freight train at Lewis, eight miles east of Kinsley. The waycar and two freight cars were demolished and the engine and baggage car of the passenger train were wrecked. Henry Swartz of Newton, Kan., fireman of the passenger train, and a yardman named Steele were killed, and Engineer Ramsey of the passenger train was seriously injured. The passengers were shaken up but none was seriously hurt. The train was an excursion carrying members of the Order of Eagles en route to Denver.

Duellists Mortally Wounded.

Bluefield, W. Va., Aug. 14.—Henry C. Hall and his son-in-law, Charles Brewer, got into a fight at the Brewer home and both will die of their injuries. YELLOW FEVER, ITS CAUSE AND THE SYMPTOMS

Experts Claim the Stegomyia Species of Mosquitoes Is the Only Transmitter of the Disease Now Ravaging New Orleans.

Its Real Origin Is In a Warm Climate—First Recognized Definitely in the West Indies in 1647—Survivors Become Immune From Further Attacks.

Details of Experiments in Cuba to Determine Cause of the Fever—Heroic Martyrdom of Dr. Jesse W. Lazear—Surgeon General Wyman's Views—How Present Epidemic Started.

A FRUIT ship, a bunch of bananas, a mosquito and an Italian—these four agents, according to the deductions of the health authorities of New Orleans, were responsible for introducing yellow fever into New Orleans as long ago as last May. The first appearance of the disease, according to the same deductions, was in the Italian quarter where the Italian laborer who unloaded the fruit ship lived.

From the originally infected vicinity the fever spread until there had been several deaths. The characteristic peculiarities of the Italian when confronted by an epidemic showed themselves in instinctive efforts to hide the fever from the health authorities, and the result was that the prevalence of the disease was not known even to the city health officer until the middle of July.

An attack of yellow fever comes on with severe chills or rigors when it comes suddenly. It may come on more gradually with languor, headache and malarial symptoms. The temperature goes to 105 degrees, sometimes higher. The fever lasts from three to five days, attended with pain in the back, limbs and head. There is nausea and vomiting. The yellow tint of the skin, from which the fever gets its name, begins on the second or third day. Yellow fever develops usually from three or four days after infection. Sometimes it takes seven days. In severe cases small hemorrhages take place into the skin and mucous membrane. The vomit is at first white. Later it becomes very dark in appearance, like coffee grounds, when it is known as "black vomit." There is bleeding at the nose, mouth and gums. Delirium usually follows, then unconsciousness and death.

First Recognized in West Indies.
Although yellow fever has been occasionally seen outside of the tropics, its real origin is in a warm climate. It was first recognized definitely in the West Indies in 1647, where it prevails, as well as on the west coast of Africa, Central America and southward along both coasts of South America and northward to the south Atlantic and Gulf states. It has been brought to North Atlantic seaports by vessels. The coming of frost generally stops yellow fever. Survivors of one attack of yellow fever become immune from further attack. The mortality varies. In some epidemics it has been as high as 85 per cent; in others as low as 10 per cent.

Experts seem to agree that the first step to combat the spread of yellow fever is to attack the mosquito. In this connection Dr. Walter Wyman, surgeon general of the marine hospital service, who is in charge of the campaign against yellow fever in New Orleans and to whom belongs the credit of encouraging and urging the experiments leading to the acceptance of the theory that the stegomyia mosquito is practically the only carrier of the poison that causes yellow fever, recently spoke as follows to the Washington correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch:

"Scientifically it is not true that the stegomyia (female) is the only carrier of yellow fever. For all practical purposes the assertion is true. Until we know the cause of yellow fever we cannot truthfully say that that mosquito is the only disseminator. There may be other carriers of it, but we never have found any trace of them.

Mosquito Only Infection Agent.
"The best way in dealing with an epidemic, or any other thing, for that matter, is to proceed upon known facts. We know the stegomyia carries the cause of yellow fever. Therefore the order to all the men in the marine hospital service is 'kill the mosquito!' If the fever persists after the mosquito has disappeared we will know that there is some other way for carrying it."

"What have we to show? Havana, after 150 years of annual visitation, free from the disease. Laredo, Tex., treated by men believing in the mosquito theory and treated accordingly, with only about 10 per cent of the population attacked by the disease, contrasted with Laredo, Mexico, across the river; disbelieving the theory, 50 per cent of the people attacked."

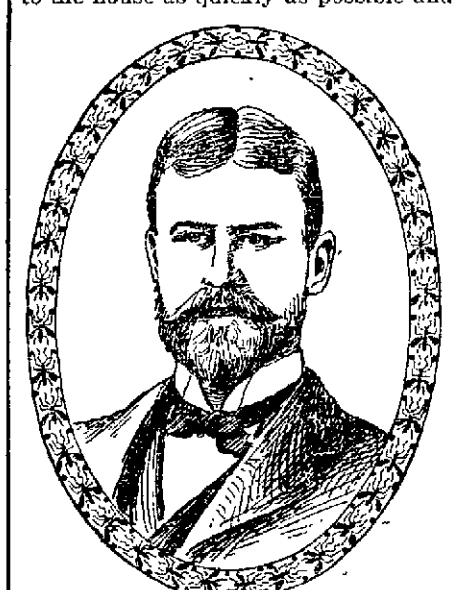

"The stegomyia does not live north of Mason and Dixon's line. He does not live in all the territory south of it. The mountains of North Carolina are too cold for him. Before we knew anything about the work of that pest observation taught us the country was divided into two parts—the infectible territory and the noninfectible. After we got to know about the stegomyia we found that the limits of his habitat were coextensive with the limits of the infectible domain."

"Next to killing the mosquito by making it impossible for him to breed, what is the best preventive?"
"The screening of every person with a fever for four days. Yellow fever is hard to diagnose. It begins like many other fevers."

"Screening during the first four days makes it impossible for the insect to become infected from the patient. Three days is the time in which a mosquito can get the poison from a human being, but four makes assurance doubly sure."

"After a mosquito has taken the blood from a patient who has had yellow fever for not more than three days it takes twelve days for the insect to become a source of infection. So you can see that if the first yellow fever case is caught in time the campaign against the mosquitoes will be beneficial if it is vigorously prosecuted during the next nine or ten days. After that if the insect that bit the patient is still at large the chances of infection are very numerous. It takes five days for the poison deposited in a human body by a mosquito to develop; hence the five day detention."

"The stegomyia is a slow moving insect. After a patient has been removed to a doubly screened hospital in a doubly screened ambulance it is the business of the doctors to return to the house as quickly as possible and burn sulphur there, because the chances are that the insect that bit the patient is still on the premises."

The fact that mosquitoes convey yellow fever was established by the late Major Walter Reed, surgeon of the United States army, when in 1900 and 1901 he supervised the experiments with yellow fever in Cuba after the United States came into control of the island, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. These tests were thorough and convinced the army officer that beyond a doubt the mosquito is the only transmitter of the fever germ. Following is the report of these experiments, and it should satisfy all laymen when it is borne in mind that all the subjects were Americans—United States soldiers who had volunteered:

Special Camp Built.

"A camp was especially constructed for the experiments about four miles from Havana. The inmates of the camp were put into most rigid quarantine and ample time was allowed to eliminate any possibility of the disease being brought in from Havana. The personnel consisted of three nurses and nine immunes, all in the military service, and included two physicians."

"From time to time Spanish immigrants, newly arrived, were brought in from the immigrant station. A person not known to be immune was not allowed to leave camp, or if he did was forbidden to return. The most complete record was kept of the health of every man to be experimented upon, thus eliminating the possibility of any other disease than yellow fever complicating the case."

"The mosquitoes used were especially bred from the eggs and kept in a building screened by wire netting. When an insect was wanted for an experiment it was taken into a yellow fever hospital and allowed to fill itself with the blood of a patient. Afterward, at varying intervals from the time of this meal of blood, it was purposely applied to nonimmunes in camp."

"In December, 1900, five cases of the disease were developed as the result of such applications. In January three and in February two, making in all ten, exclusive of the cases of Dr. James Carroll and Dr. Jesse W. Lazear. Immediately upon the appearance of the first recognized symptoms of the disease in any one of these experiments, all cases the patient was taken from Camp Lazear to a yellow fever hospital one mile distant. Every person in camp was rigidly protected from accidental mosquito bites, and not in a single instance did yellow fever develop in the camp except at the will of the experimenters. The experiments were conducted at a season when there was the least chance of naturally acquiring the disease, and the mosquitoes used were kept alive by maintaining them at a summer temperature."

"A completely mosquito proof building was divided into two compartments by a wire screen partition. Infected insects were liberated on one side only. A brave nonimmune entered and remained long enough to allow himself to be bitten several times. He was attacked by yellow fever, while two susceptible men in the other compartment did not acquire the disease, although sleeping there thirteen nights. This demonstrates in the simplest and most certain manner that the infectiousness of the building was due only to the presence of the insects. Every attempt was made to infect individuals by means of bedding, clothes and other articles that had been used and soiled by patients suffering with virulent yellow fever."

"Naturally yellow fever is transmitted by the mosquito and always and only by the mosquito. The harmlessness of fomites has been fully demonstrated by our experiments in 1900 and 1901, in which three young Americans slept for twenty consecutive nights in a room from which mosquitoes were excluded furnished with articles soiled with discharges from fatal and other cases of yellow fever. Three and four large boxes were packed and unpacked each morning by these nonimmunes, who suffered no disturbance of health from these exposures. The room was 20 by 14 feet, double walled, tightly sealed, heated to above 90 degrees F. and dark."

"Two other nonimmunes then occupied the room for twenty nights, while additional articles of bedding and clothing were added. They slept in the garments and between the sheets that covered cases of yellow fever, some of which were fatal. The result of the second attempt was nil. A third attempt was then made with two additional nonimmunes equally without success. Not the slightest indisposition followed close and intimate contact with this repulsive material in any case. Temperatures and pulse rates were recorded at regular and frequent intervals. Four of these seven nonimmunes were subsequently infected by blood injections and by means of infected mosquitoes."

Dr. Lazear's Singular Death.
The first death from the mosquito experiments was that of Dr. Jesse W. Lazear in November, 1901. Dr. Lazear, an army surgeon, was one of an army board, all of whom submitted themselves to the bites of infected mosquitoes. The death of Dr. Lazear was singular. He had voluntarily been bitten for the sake of experiment and suffered no effects. Afterward while he was visiting the yellow fever ward at Las Animas a mosquito lit on his hand. He allowed it to remain there and bite him. Five days afterward he was taken ill and died.

SURGEON GENERAL WYMAN.

A naval surgeon described some incidents which occurred in Las Animas hospital, Havana, during the height of the yellow fever epidemic in Cuba, when another physician and he ran the institution, says the New York Herald.

Bedlam at Night.
"We managed fairly well during the day, but at night—midnight when we were worn out, the bedlam produced by the patients in their delirium was awful. They made all sorts of noises in different languages, for there were different nationalities represented. The delirium which resulted from the characteristic effect of the disease on the kidneys can cause convulsions and particularly facial spasms."

"The sick would make the most distressing grunings, which in the course of hours of morn would cause some of the female nurses to tremble and cry and beg for a short respite in the open air. They would go out on the verandas, steady themselves, then back to business. But the most horrible of all was the hemorrhages, too horrible to describe. And all this caused by the bite of a particular kind of mosquito!"

New Pedagogic Theory.
The newest idea in schools for teaching children to read is to make them tap a typewriter. The novelty of the work makes the scholars take the greatest interest in thus learning the rudiments of education.

SARATOGA MONEY MAD

Gates and Drake Play Golf at $1,000 a Hole.

CADDIES GROWING PROSPEROUS.

Wall Street Man Idol of the Crowd, but Drake Is the Better Player. When Tired of Golf They Play Tennis at $100 a Point—Whims of Rich Visitors at Summer Resort.

Golf at a thousand dollars a hole, tennis at a hundred dollars a point, poker with no limit and side bets on every street as to the number of the next trolley car that comes along or tomorrow's weather—that is the kind of money madness that has got a death grip on Saratoga, says a special dispatch to the New York Journal.

Plungers like John W. Gates and John A. Drake, not content with gigantic stakes on the races and poker games, made their mornings interesting by playing golf for a thousand dollars a hole. Now and then they switch to tennis at a hundred dollars a point, which runs up into the thousands for a set. And the rest of the crowd follows according to their means.

The flush times in California when men played poker for gold mines, the feverish nights at Monte Carlo, where aristocrats gamble away princely birthrights, are both eclipsed by the money mania that has broken out at Saratoga this season. The craze follows the clock all the way around.

Got up in the morning and go down to the springs, and you will find a couple of millionaires betting each other that the first car to come along will have an odd or even number.

Walk out to the golf links, and you will see John W. Gates and John A. Drake, his substantial shadow, making tracks on the dewy grass and cutting divots out of the fair green with prodigious strokes of brassies and irons.

And every one of those strokes means about a hundred dollars, for when Drake and Gates play they lay a thousand dollars a hole.

If either should get eighteen straight holes the sum of $18,000 would change hands, but as they are tolerably matched it is rare that more than three or four thousand dollars is won or lost. Of the two, Drake plays the better game, but Gates gets a handicap which squares things up.

The caddies on the course are growing prosperous, and as soon as the golf craze spreads to the bookmakers, gamblers and the other elite of the place a job as a caddy will be worth purchasing.

On the tennis courts, which are numerous in the handsome gardens of retired plungers along the elm shaded avenues, tennis is indulged in every morning before begins the resplendent parade to the race track.

Here money changes owners almost as fast as it does at the track, while spectators on the streets pause to make side bets as to the outcome of the particular game they happen to be watching.

If you walk from the United States or the Grand Union hotel down the main street after dinner you will see knots of men grouped around plunger who are betting on the population of the town, the age of the nearest elm tree, the hour the sun sets, the color of the next horse to round the corner or the name of the conductor that will bring in the next Saratoga special.

And every bet is a big one. Saratoga is not the home of the piker, although that variety of gambler is plentiful about her streets.

Since the death of William C. Whitney, Gates is the most important personage in the village, ranking even higher than Canfield, George Wheelock and other prominent citizens in the summer colony.

When he makes bets, the crowd watch him adoringly as he sits on the rail of the clubhouse and looks over their heads as they gather on the lawn. If he races down to the lake in an automobile before dinner, the crowd that can support automobiles follow after. And even when in pursuit of health and recreation, as well as the ever needful exhilaration of a little stake, he and Drake beat little rubber balls over bunkers on the golf course, there is a big gallery to see and applaud, for the Saratoga crowd knows that Gates is playing for big stakes, and they like to see any kind of gambling where real money is at issue.

Franklin's Bicentennial.
It is certainly discreditable that one of the three Americans who would be popular acclaim be pronounced to be the greatest the country has produced should have so little formal recognition, says the Philadelphia Record. The birthday of Washington is practically a national holiday. Lincoln's birthday is a red letter day in many states, but Franklin, the third in this triumvirate of America's greatest, is denied the honor of a public testimonial to his superlative merit. An opportunity is at hand to make good this neglect. On Jan. 17 next will be the bicentennial of Franklin's birth. The day ought to be celebrated in an appropriate manner to the furthest ends of the country. It would be becoming for Philadelphia to take the lead in doing honor to her adopted son.

Dresser of Flowers.
Householders for flowers is the latest fad in the horticultural realm. Just prior to an exhibition of flowers the artist, or professor, takes in hand such specimens as chrysanthemums, with glaucous petals, and trims them, cutting them to equal lengths and combing them. He also knows how to coax the petals open, smoothing out the petals and making them resemble flowers that are full blown.

Mark Twain and the Dry Dock.
Happ's Weekly of a recent issue contains a column of entertaining "personalities." In the anecdotes and observations on persons and events in the public eye, the paragraph is quoted a new version of Mark Twain's. Mr. Clemens is quoted as defining a dry dock as "a literary character."

KISSED BY WITTE.

Peace Envoy Embraced Conductor Because He Spoke French.

"No one could have been more surprised than I was when M. Sergius Witte threw his arms about me and kissed me on the cheek," said Conductor E. P. Therien, who had the distinction of having received this European salutation from Russia's envoy extraordinary to the peace conference a few days ago, says a Boston dispatch to the New York American.

Conductor Therien is himself a European—a Frenchman. As an employee of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, he had had charge of the special train which transported the distinguished foreigner from Newport to Boston, after he had been induced to leave the Mayflower and go overland to Portsmouth. While relating the details of the incident recently he said:

"It is the custom in Europe for men to salute each other by kissing, although in this country it appears strange. I must say that I was surprised, but it was all right. It was M. Witte's manner of showing his appreciation for the courtesies extended to him during his first ride on an American railroad."

"All during the run from Newport to Boston the members of the party conversed in French. I am a Frenchman myself and understood all that was said perfectly. In fact, I talked with members of the party during the trip, though not with M. Witte. You can imagine my surprise then, when, upon reaching Boston, the big Russian snatched me full on the cheek."

"I did not know what to do for a moment. The situation embarrassed me. I have been among Americans so long that I have almost forgotten European customs. When I realized, however, the sincerity with which the salutation had been given by the Russian nobleman I felt greatly honored. You see, it all happened in this way:

"When we stopped at Back Bay M. Witte did not follow the other members of the party to the elevator, but strode off in the direction of the engine. When he reached the cab he motioned to Engineer J. E. Magoun and put his hand out for a handshake. Magoun leaned out of his cab and the two men shook hands. The fireman was honored in the same way."

"As M. Witte turned to join his party I touched him on the elbow to direct him to the elevator, and spoke to him in French. It was then that he threw open his arms, and, with a hearty embrace, kissed me on the cheek."

Conductor Therien is very popular on the Newport line. He has a wife, who says she does not care how many men kiss her husband.

PASTORS WHO LIKE WORK.

Building Fences, Cleaning Streets and Carrying Mail at Winsted.

The Rev. Newell M. Calhoun, pastor of the Second Congregational church at Winsted, Conn., and member of the Yale corporation, is building a rustic stone wall in front of Pine Bank, his summer residence on the shores of Highland lake, says a Winsted special to the New York World. His artistic work with the trowel is attracting many contractors.

The Rev. George Remington, a Baptist clergyman, formerly of Colorado, is employed by the town raking stones on the highways. The Rev. F. S. Francis of New Hartford, a Methodist clergyman nearly seventy years old, is toiling seven days a week. He carries the mail six days in the week between Collinsville and Torrington and preaches on the seventh.

Sleeve Boys For Girl Swimmers.

One mystery that has been baffling spectators at Bailey's beach in Newport has rested in the fact that many girls who profess they are unable to swim manage to glide through the water in a manner that suggests proficiency in the nautical art, says the New York Press. Apparently they carried no life preservers to keep them from sinking. Now the secret has been revealed. It appears that the surprising skill of the girls is due to a contrivance they carry up their sleeves. The sleeves, which are decidedly puffy, are fitted up with rubber bags, which are blown up before the garment is donned. Thus the wearers are enabled to strike out in supreme confidence that Davy Jones won't drag them down to his locker.

Tenpins of Glass.

Glass tenpins are coming into favor, says the Detroit News-Tribune. They are made of strong, tempered glass, and are delicately trimmed with bands of silver. Inside the teapot a hollow ball of silver rolls about and, by prompt absorption of the heat of the boiling water, prevents the glass from cracking. The charm of the crystal teapot lies not wholly in its beauty, for there is the additional advantage that the teakmer can see just what quantity she has on hand.

BIGGEST GOLD BRICK.

Exhibit From Nome, Alaska, at Lewis and Clark Fair.

WEIGHS ABOUT NINETY POUNDS.

It Is a Foot Long, Four Inches Deep and Five Wide—Nuggets That Attract Attention—Display of Other Minerals Which Tell of Nome's Untold Wealth.

The biggest gold brick ever cast, nearly as large as two building bricks and placed end to end, which contains $25,000 worth of gold, is put on the gold in a twenty dollar coin, recently arrived at the Lewis and Clark exposition in Portland, Ore., and is being exhibited by the Nome district of Alaska as evidence that Nome is still a great gold producing region, says W. E. Brindley. The gold brick is a foot long, four inches deep and five inches wide, and it weighs approximately ninety pounds.

The city of Nome, on the Seward peninsula, in the extreme north of Alaska, beyond the string of islands that stand out like the bill of a snipe, contains a population of from 2,500 to 3,000 people in the winter time and ten times as many people in the summer. The town has an enterprising chamber of commerce, which in fifteen days put together the most wonderful mineral exhibit ever displayed by one region.

While the gold brick which Nome is showing has attracted more attention than any other single article in the United States government building at the fair, three nuggets, worth in the aggregate $8,000, stand second in popularity. These are exhibited in a small wire cage, and a man who wears in his belt a revolver of the size common to melodrama and wild west shows stands guard over them. The biggest nugget of the three, which weighs 152 ounces, is worth $3,276. There is a hole in one side of the cage big enough for one to put his hand through it, but not large enough to enable him to take out the nugget. Over the chunk of gold there is a legend which reads: "You can lift the nugget, but don't take it away," and all day long people crowd one another for a chance to hold $3,276 worth of gold for just a fraction of a minute.

The nuggets and the gold bricks constitute Nome's most interesting gold display. They are owned by the Pioneer Mining company and were found in Anvil creek, near Nome. Near the nugget cage is a table on which, under glass, are small boxes of pay dirt. This display is not so spectacular as that in the nugget cage—which, by the way, includes a host of smaller nuggets in addition to the three big ones—but it is remarkably interesting. The pay dirt shows no gold and looks like ordinary gravelly soil. One box of it is labeled: "Pay dirt from Anvil creek. Average value $1.20 per bucket." One at once begins to figure how many buckets an ordinary man could fill in a day, and the figures are startling. Another box contains broken rock and is labeled: "Portion of bedrock from Portland bench claim—$421.00 result of work of seven men for sixty days."

But gold is not the only mineral resource of the country, round about Nome. Some 150 miles from Nome, at a place called Cape York, on Buck creek, there is a mountain of tin, where $25,000,000 worth of the metal is in sight. The tin is found in a substance called cassiterite crystals, which contain 72 per cent of metallic tin, and from 40 cents to a dollar's worth of gold to the ton. There is a whole mountain top, ten miles long by two miles wide, of this cassiterite, which is worth $441 a ton at the present price of tin. 30 cents a pound. Last winter 500 tons of the ore were taken out, and the magnitude of the industry is hardly to be conceived. Then, again, at Ears mountain, on Shishmaref inlet, 190 miles northwest of Nome, there is a ledge of cassiterite. The ledge is exposed to a width of 15 feet and runs 1,000 feet up the mountain, reaching an elevation of 400 feet. From this it is presumed that the ore vein is 400 feet deep.

And then there is quicksilver, another new proposition and a very profitable one from all appearances. Quicksilver ore is found on the Kuskokwim river, distant 800 miles southeast of Nome. Some of it runs $400 worth to the ton, but $100 is probably the average. The ore is found on the surface. It is buried in an immense caisson, so that the quicksilver vapors rise and are afterward precipitated or condensed into liquid quicksilver by being immersed in cold water. At the exposition the richness of the ore is demonstrated by a piece from which the quicksilver has been smelted. The rock is honeycombed like a pumice stone.

It costs 20 cents a pound on the average to transport coal from the mines in British Columbia to Nome, hence the importance of the discovery of a coal mine which produces a fairly good grade in the far north. The coal mine is located on Chukchee river, which flows into the Kuskokwim river, which in turn flows into Kotzebue sound. At the surface there is a large coal heap found to be equal in heat producing power to one ton of Western coal. Now a shaft has been sunk 300 feet, and two tons of the coal at that depth are worth one ton of Wellington. By means of this coal, which is essential to winter mining in the far north, $25,000 worth of gold was taken out last winter. The discovery of the coal thus opens up immense possibilities in winter mining. It assures a regular fair round population for Nome.

Such are a few of the things exhibited by the enterprising city of Nome.

CATARRH

A UNIVERSAL DISEASE

Catarrh usually begins with a cold in the head, but does not stop there. The mucous membranes all become inflamed and secrete a filthy, unhealthy matter which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to all parts of the body. The patient is then continually sneezing and spitting, the nose is stopped up, the ears have a ringing or buzzing noise, the throat becomes sore, and as the unhealthy matter more thoroughly saturates the blood a general feeling of despondency takes possession of the system.

I had Catarrh for about fifteen years, and no man could have been worse. I tried everything I could hear of, but no good resulted. I then began S. S. S. and could see little improvement from the first bottle, and after taking it a short while, I was cured. I am now a healthy man, and as well today as any man. I think Catarrh is a blood disease, and know there is nothing on earth better for the blood than S. S. S. Everybody thinks more of S. S. S. than I do. M. LAPSEY, Mich.

Local applications cannot cure Catarrh, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. They allay the inflammation and temporarily relieve the disease, but as soon as they are left off the trouble returns. The only way to cure Catarrh is to treat it through the blood. S. S. S. soon clears the blood of all Catarrhal matter and purges it of all irritating poisons, checks further progress of the trouble and completely cures the disease. S. S. S. keeps the blood in perfect order so that it can eliminate all waste matter that will produce Catarrh. Nothing equals this great vegetable remedy in the cure of this disease. Write for our book and any medical advice you wish. We make no charge for either.

DEVORE BITTEN BY COPPERHEAD

B. & O. SECTION MAN NOW IN A VERY SERIOUS CONDITION
AS THE RESULT.

Arm and Shoulder are Badly Swollen and Doctor is Much Alarmed Over the Patient's Condition.

J. G. DeVore, a section hand employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company at Black Hand, is lying in a serious condition from the effects of being bitten by a copperhead snake on Saturday. DeVore was at work with a number of men repairing the tracks and in lifting a tie was struck by the snake, which was coiled up under it. The bite took effect in the palm of the left hand. The man was taken to his home and Dr. Covert summoned. By the time the doctor arrived the hand and arm were swollen to a prodigious size. Sunday the swelling had extended to shoulder, the arm being swollen to twice its natural size. Monday morning the poison had affected the left side, and it is reported that the injured man is in a very precarious condition.

NEARLY UNANIMOUS

Is the Vote In Favor of Dissolution—Whole Country Is In Favor of the Proposition.

Christiania, Aug. 14.—The latest available returns from the referendum vote taken yesterday on the subject of the dissolution of the union with Sweden show that about the same ratio was maintained all over the country as was shown in the early returns. The vote is practically unanimous in favor of dissolution.

The count at 9 o'clock this morning showed that 292,300 votes had been cast for dissolution to 136 against. The vote in Christiania stood 31,097 for dissolution to 49 against the proposition.

Thirty-five households were the scene of the late war. Was almost wild. Doctor Covert could not get in and, finally, after doctors had failed, C. P. Greenwell, Valley street, Sonoma, N.Y.

SUIT COMMENCED BY RECEIVER

AGAINST DIRECTORS OF THE OLD SAVINGS BANK OF
THIS CITY.

Mr. Stasel Alleges That the Directors of the Bank Were Careless and Negligent.

Albert A. Stasel, receiver for the Newark Savings Bank company, has just commenced suit in the Common Pleas court against Lewis P. Schaus, James F. Lincolner, William E. Miller, Henry Scheidler, Wm. E. Miller, Z. T. Duer, Harry Swisher, John J. Carroll, Samuel M. Hunter, executor of the estate of Richard Scheidler, deceased, E. L. Weisgerber, administrator of the estate of William G. Taafel, and Herbert Adelson, to recover for their alleged carelessness as directors of the Newark Savings bank.

The plaintiff says that the bank was incorporated on March 5, 1890, and carried on the banking business until May 20, 1901, when the company became insolvent. He says that during the existence of the bank the defendants were elected the directors and had the management of the company.

Plaintiff says that during the administration of the defendants and directors they negligently and carelessly

They failed to look at the assets of the bank, but trusted to the wholeheartedness of J. F. Lincolner.

That they failed to control Lincolner and the affairs of the company; that they carelessly allowed Lincolner to draw the assets of the bank, convert the same to his own use to an amount of $75,000.

That they carelessly allowed to be loaned to many individuals large amounts of money without proper security, amounting to many thousands of dollars, to wit: $55,000, which has been wholly lost.

That the total subscribed capital of the bank was $75,000 and that the whole amount thereof was loaned and paid in was only $47,000.

That the directors carelessly failed to control the same and to sell the same at a low price and a large amount thereof has become lost.

The defendants carelessly loaned or allowed to be loaned to many individuals assets of the company in excess of 10 per cent. of the cash capital of the company and more than 10 per cent. of the whole capital subscribed. That the defendants carelessly devoted to be paid from year to year the assets of the bank the sum of

Plaintiff says that the total indebtedness of the bank consisted of deposits in the bank as far as can now ascertain is $225,000. That the total amount of assets, both collectable and uncollectable, amount to not more than $125,000. That the difference between the amount of the indebtedness was occasioned by the careless acts of the defendants.

That the directors purchased shares of the capital stock of the bank with the assets thereof and permitted the same to be done by the cashier, and again sold some of the shares to other persons and some still remaining sold, thereby entailing loss to the bank.

Plaintiff cannot state more definitely the amounts of the different items composing the different losses mentioned above, as it involves an investigation of large number of books and many items, entries and transactions therein during the existence of the bank which cannot be ascertained without an accounting be had in the matter.

Plaintiff prays the court to order an accounting of the affairs of the company to ascertain the losses in the assets of the company arising from the negligent acts aforesaid when the losses occurred and the amount thereof. Also during what period of time each of the defendants were directors of the company, and what losses and negligence each is properly charged, and that each of the defendants be ordered and decreed to pay plaintiff all such losses as are properly charged against each by reason of the premises, and plaintiff prays for all other relief he may in law and equity be entitled to in the premises. Flory & Flory and A. A. Stasel, attorneys for the plaintiff.

Fatal Fight.

Lee City, Ky., Aug. 14.—In an altercation Alex Ross, 18, son of Allison Ross, cut and fatally wounded Luke Crum, 16. Ross is in charge of Deputy Sheriff Robert Dunn and excitement is high. No cause is given for the fight.

No Cause Assigned.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 14.—William Underwood, a farmer, hanged himself to a tree with a handkerchief. He was in good health, wealthy, and devoted to his family. No reason is known for the act.

CROWD WILL COME FROM MANSFIELD

DEMOCRATIC OPENING MEETING TO BE HELD HERE ON SEPTEMBER 23.

Famous Uncle Sam's Club of Mansfield
Is to be Reorganized—Low Excursion Rate Will be Provided.

Mansfield, O., Aug. 14.—Mansfield will send a big crowd to Newark on Sept. 23, when the Democratic state campaign will be formally opened.

The Uncle Sam Club, a former Democratic club, was in existence a few years ago and there was a long line of gentlemen from Mansfield wearing plug hats and white ties in the parade at the Bucyrus opening.

A party of gentlemen were talking at the office of Probate Judge Bricker, about the campaign opening and it was the opinion of the gentlemen present that arrangements for the trip to Newark should be commenced within the next couple of weeks. It is only about two hours ride to Newark, and a low rate of fare will doubtless be secured. The counties adjoining Newark have a large Democratic population and the crowd on that day should be an immense one. Newark has sent several large crowds to this city to political meetings and now is the time for Mansfield to reciprocate.

Judge Bricker suggested that the Uncle Sam Club should be reorganized for this campaign. There are still a large number of the uniforms left, and with the new members who would come in, the Uncle Sam Club would be an immense success. All of the gentlemen present coincided and it would not be surprising if the Uncle Sam Club would be reorganized this fall.

Nothing definite will be done about the Newark meeting, however, until the executive committee has been announced, organized and settled down to work. However, various prominent Democrats of the county are making suggestions for attending the Newark meeting. Interest being displayed in the matter at this early date indicates that there will be an immense crowd from Mansfield. The announcement of speakers is being anxiously awaited by Democrats of this county.
